

CREEK SPILLS ABOVE BANKS IN HEAVY RAIN

Over 2 Inches of Rain Falls In Area; Motorist Dies in Flood

PERKIOMEN AREA ROADS ARE CLOSED TEMPORARILY

(Pictures on Pages 8, 11 and 15)

A muddy and angry Perkiomen creek spilled over its banks yesterday morning in the season's wildest storm. More than 2 inches of rain contributed to the stream's rapid rise. High winds drove the rain like buckshot and for several hours it seemed like April or August.

Lightning lit the black, wet night, thunder rumbled on the hillsides and the mercury crawled just under the 60-mark like a ground mole afraid to come up for air.

In Perkiomenville an Allenstown man died, a direct result of the flood. In Pottstown 2.4 inches of water filled gutters, streams and the borough's rutted streets and fish bowl intersections.

Lewis A. Fisher, 50, an assistant train master for the Reading company, died of a heart attack after his car stalled in the menacing waters of the Perkiomen along Route 29.

THE VETERAN Reading company man had been summoned to an auto accident scene near Schwenksville at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

A relative last night reported he was on his way to the accident when he suffered the fatal attack. His late model sedan ploughed into the brown waters across Route 29.

3 Youthful Bandits Brandish Toys for Man-Size Robbery

Three youngsters late yesterday afternoon tried a man-size holdup at the Pet House, Chestnut and York streets.

They entered the establishment at approximately 5 o'clock. The tallest and apparently the oldest of the trio brandished a water pistol which he pointed menacingly at the proprietor's wife, Mrs. Paul Kilburn.

A second youth pointed a small penknife in the direction of Dorothy Berkheimer, 515 North Franklin street, a clerk and warned her not to scream.

The youth with the water pistol said, "This is a holdup; we want your cash."

MRS. KILBURN walked to the rear of the store and out on Chestnut street to try to attract attention. The third boy, stationed by the door, warned his companions.

Family of Hunters Finds Crash Remains

A remnant of the spectacular Summer air crash near Hopewell was uncovered by a Cold Springs park hunter yesterday.

Oscar Haws, hunting with a grandfather-father-grandson combination of Yocoms, found a 3-foot length from the rudder of an F-51 Mustang fighter which crashed in the densely wooded area north-east of Hopewell lake this past July 22.

He was checking through the fields with Arthur Yocom, 25 Beech street, John Yocom, Unionville, and John's son Arthur, who represents the third generation, when he saw the 6-inch wide section of rudder. The plane was piloted by James Romanowicz, who parachuted to safety. His fighter went into a dizzy spin after it hooked wings with another fighter. The second plane limped back to General Spaatz field, Reading, after the crash.

Santa Letter Pouch To Fly North at 11

This morning at 11 o'clock the mailbox for Santa Claus letters at the Pottstown Automobile club and The Mercury offices will be closed.

That will be the deadline for all letters which will be dispatched to Fairbanks, Alaska, where they will be postmarked and returned to the borough area by regular air mail carriers.

Your letters must be in The Mercury office by 11 o'clock this morning. None can be handled after that time since a schedule must be met to send them to Philadelphia where they will be loaded aboard a Pan American Airways airplane and flown to Alaska.

J. F. McCONNELL, EX-GOLF 'PRO', DIES IN HOSPITAL

Taught at The Hill School, Developed Several Champions

James F. McConnell, 397 State street, former golf coach for The Hill and golf "pro" at Brookside country club, and the teacher of a half-dozen championship players, died yesterday morning at 4:20 o'clock in Pottstown hospital.

Mr. McConnell, who was known best as "Jim" and "Jimmy," was 61 years old the past Dec. 8. He had been in ill health since the past June, when he was bedded by pleurisy.

He was in the hospital for 20 days the past October, then went home, only to be forced to return on Thanksgiving Day. Death was caused by a heart ailment.

A golfer since boyhood, he learned the game while a caddy at Seaview Country club in Absecon, N. J., of which he later became the professional golfer.

In 1919, he came from Seaview to The Hill as golf coach and "pro" of its course. When Brookside Country club was formed at The Hill's course, he became its "pro," too. He held these posts until six years ago.

Christmas Seal Sale Starts This Morning

Christmas seals will go on sale at the Pottstown postoffice this morning at 9 o'clock, instead of Monday morning, as previously announced.

Reason for moving up the opening date of the Family Welfare society's booth was the volunteering of more workers to staff it, Martha B. Shoemaker, executive secretary of the society, said last night.

On duty when the booth opens this morning will be Mrs. Jared M. Evans.

The extra volunteers are members.

YMCA Leader Appeals for Action By Entire World to Solve Problems

By NORMAN REED (Mercury Staff Writer)

Two Pottstown service organizations heard an appeal for world action last night by a guest speaker from India.

"Though we have responsibilities at home, we are still parts of a world-wide organization," members of the YMCA and the Pottstown Rotary club were told at a joint meeting.

Lawrence C. Burr, the guest speaker, founder and director of the YMCA Boys' Town in Madras, India, told the 250 persons attending the dinner meeting it was their duty to help people of other lands achieve a higher and nobler life.

"It is our responsibility to help them solve their problems in the world."

Government Will Assist Housing in Birdsboro

Credit restrictions will be relaxed on private housing and the Federal Government will grant financial aid to the community in building, it was announced yesterday.

The Economic Stabilization Agency said the area has been designated a "critical defense housing area."

The action calls only for the relaxing of credit restrictions and does not involve rent controls, the ESA explained. All of Birdsboro borough is included in the area designated by the agency.

The Rev. David V. Leahy, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, is embraced by his sister, Mrs. Nellie Dalton, of Chicago, at a testimonial dinner in Maria Assunta hall yesterday celebrating his 40th anniversary in the priesthood. Father Leahy was presented with a $1000 check at the surprise banquet in his honor.

Father Leahy Moved by Surprise Testimonial Dinner

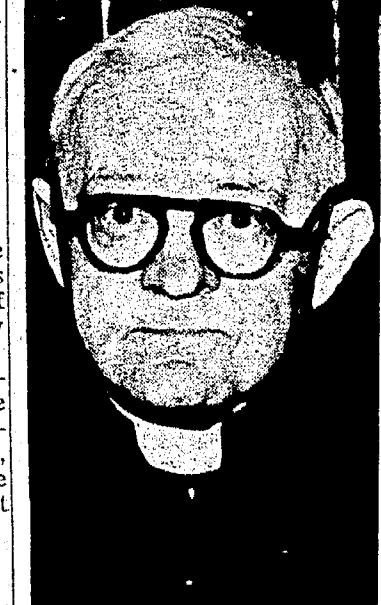

By CHARLES T. HEARN (Mercury Staff Writer)

The Rev. David V. Leahy showed complete astonishment when he walked into Maria Assunta hall last night and was greeted by 250 friends paying tribute to their beloved assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Father Leahy was honored in the surprise testimonial dinner celebrating the 40th anniversary of his ordination and was presented a $1000 check as a token of the esteem of his parishioners.

The first Father Leahy knew of the ceremony was when he walked through the door of the hall under an arch of swords held by 14 fourth degree knights of Father Barry Council 1192, Knights of Columbus.

Entering the hall with the Rev. William M. Begley,

REV. DAVID V. LEAHY

Father Leahy stopped short and with tear-filled eyes he summed up all his feeling in a low whisper, "Thank you. Thank all of you."

The gentle, white-haired priest was escorted to the table of honor by the fourth degree knights, and after a roast turkey dinner he was due for some more surprises.

FRANCIS W. HENNESSEY, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, toastmaster, gave a resume of Father Leahy's background punctuated with little human stories which the St. Aloysius assistant rector nodded agreement to or quipped back with witticisms.

"There are lots of things we have found out about Father Dave

Irish Brogue and All, He Is 'Father Dave' To His Parishioners

Like the kindly priest portrayed by Barry Fitzgerald in "Going My Way," the Rev. David V. Leahy, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, has captured the love and admiration of all his parishioners and others he meets.

With an Irish brogue and an unusual likeness to the Hollywood actor, the diminutive Father Dave, as he is affectionately called by close friends, is quick to inject a spark of wit into a conversation and to change what may start out to be a boring celebration into an affair sparkling with animation.

The Rev. William M. Begley, rector, likes to think of his good friend as a man who always sees the humorous side of any situation. He often tells of Father Dave's favorite story.

"When Father Dave was in Easton, he was quite the dandy," Father Begley said. "He wore a hat that was just right and long, fancy cuffs."

"One day a woman visited him and told him she was having trouble with her husband. When he volunteered to see the man, the wife said her husband had said if a priest ever set foot in the Romig told Patrolman Paul J. Smith he was heading south on Warren street and entered the King street intersection where the Griffith car struck him.

Mrs. Griffith said she was traveling west on King street and about 100 feet from the intersection she put her car into second gear. She reported she crossed the intersection and was struck by Romig's car.

MACMULLEN'S STORE IS SOLD IN BANKRUPTCY

Stock and Equipment Gosh Quickly; Auction Brings $4227

The bankruptcy auction sale of the furniture and equipment of MacMullen Brothers furniture store, 361 High street, got off to an unpromising start yesterday morning but finished successfully—too successfully for big Philadelphia bidders.

The stock and equipment were sold, in more than 200 lots auctioned off at a speed bewildering to newcomers to such auctions, for a total of $4227.

The sale was confirmed yesterday afternoon by the judges of the US District court in Philadelphia. Confirmation depended chiefly on whether the total raised at auction was at least 75 percent of the value as assessed by three court-appointed experts.

The $4227 total was considered unusually high, since it was slightly more than the appraisement, it was reported by Raymond Pearlstone, Norristown attorney representing the creditors.

THERE WERE several big Philadelphia wholesalers among the more than 30 people who bid in the whirlwind hour of auction.

The Philadelphia dealers found the Pottstown area competition too tough, with several of them walking out before the auction was over, unable or unwilling to match the bids of local dealers and individuals.

The unpromising start of the sale was that, as several men who were to supervise it arrived, each of them thought one of the others had the key to the store.

An hour before the 11 a. m.

Group Names Financial Advisors, Starts Preparations for Bond Issue

Horace H. Frederick was named chairman of Pottstown's school authority at a joint meeting of the authority and the school board yesterday.

Frederick's name was pulled out of a hat by Evelyn E. Shelly, who was chosen unanimously secretary of the authority at the outset of the luncheon meeting at Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

The names of the authority members were written on separate pieces of paper and drawn at random by Miss Shelly from the hat held by H. Bert Shaw, school board president.

Walter F. Heise, whose name was drawn second, will act as vice chairman; Ernest T. Handley, host at yesterday's meeting, was named treasurer; and Forest C. J. Purnell, will serve the authority as assistant treasurer.

The five-member authority was appointed the past Oct. 28 to set up plans for the building and financing of the proposed elementary school in the West End. The charter, which was granted Wednesday, gave the group the go-ahead signal to form a working organization.

The authority agreed on several resolutions at the meeting to hasten the financing and ultimate construction of the building. Unanimous agreement was reached on the following proposals:

1. Appointment of Janney and Company, Philadelphia, as "fiscal agent-financial advisor" to prepare and underwrite the bond issue.
2. Selection of Harold E. Binder, school board solicitor, as attorney for the bond issue to advise the authority on the legal technicalities involved.
3. The naming of Citizens National Bank and Trust company as trustee for the bond indenture.
4. The choice of Townsend Elliott and Munson, Philadelphia law firm, to act as bond counsel.

AUTHORITY AND school board directors adopted a corporate seal at the meeting to be used on all documents dealing with the financing and building of the school.

Solicitor Binder informed the group of the contract negotiated between Sanders and Thomas, architects for the proposed school, and the school board. He asked that the authority accept assignment of the contract.

Handley said, "We have con-

FIRE DAMAGES DRYING ROOM IN CAMERA SHOP

Owner Says Blaze Began In Small Building Outside Store

A $2500 fire at the Arrow Camera shop, Chestnut and Charlotte streets, early last night was restricted to the film-drying room.

Frederick E. Frey, 231 Prospect street, owner of the shop, said the fire started in a wooden, 3 by 4 foot building adjacent to the drying room.

He explained, "The room was built especially to take care of waste paper from the shop. The fire started in there. It definitely was an outside fire. There's no door from the shanty into the drying room. I think someone, maybe kids, they often play around there, must have been in the trash room."

"The outside door to the room was not closed, but all was in order when I left for home at 5:50 o'clock. I didn't close the door because it was warped from the heavy rains."

THIRTY FIREMEN from the Good Will, Philadelphia and Empire Hook and Ladder Fire companies hustled to the scene.

Booster streams, two from the Hooks and one from the Phillies, were used to bring the smoldering fire under control.

Black smoke drifted throughout the main building of the camera

Optimist Club Ho'ds Its Christmas Party Instead of Meeting

Pottstown's Optimist club held a family Christmas party in the North Coventry Grange hall last night instead of a regular meeting.

The Opti-Mrs., women's auxiliary of the club, was in charge of the program in which 105 club members, wives, children and grandchildren participated.

Mrs. Edward Angstadt, president of the Opti-Mrs., presented a check for $100 to the club on behalf of the auxiliary to be used in the promotion of Junior Optimist clubs in Pottstown.

The check was accepted by President Leroy H. Keyser, for the club.

After dinner at 6:30 o'clock the group was visited by Santa Claus, who distributed toys to the children.

ENTERTAINMENT by the children followed, including Christmas carols—sung by the children as a group. Linford Richards led the songs.

Special music was presented by Gloria McNeal, piano; Alvin McNeal, harmonica, and Jean Angstadt with Jeanette Miller, vocal duet.

house he would throw the priest out.

"So Father Dave went to the man's house, saw him sitting behind a table and said to him, 'I hear you threatened to throw any priest who set foot in your house out the door.'

"The man replied, 'That's right' and promptly picked him up by the seat of the pants and tossed him out. Father Dave sat on the edge of the curb and said, 'By darn. A man of my word.'

"A few days later the man and his wife appeared at the rectory. Father Dave looked at him and said, 'Surely you won't throw me out of my own house.'

THERE ARE countless human incidents which endear the little priest to his friends. Where there is a need for aid to the poor or children, Father Dave is always on hand to volunteer his services. He is presently director of St. Vincent de Paul society, a charity to aid the needy.

Forty years ago when he took his vows at St. Peter and Paul's cathedral, Philadelphia, he prayed that he might be of some service to children during his career.

Father Dave was literally "born" to be a priest. A native of Mahanoy City, he was the son of a mine foreman. In his early childhood he began his work in the church by serving as an altar boy.

He began serious study to groom himself for the holy order by attending the Seminary Preparatory school in Ellipton, Md., at the age of 12. After three years of study, he attended St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook. He was ordained Dec. 14, 1912, at the age of 26, one of the youngest members of his class.

Upon graduation and ordination he was offered the opportunity to continue his studies at the Catholic university, Washington, D. C., but he refused.

THEN BEGAN his service as assistant rector at several parishes until his health began to falter. He served three years each at St. Mary's, Easton, St. Bridget's, Falls of the Schuylkill; Immaculate Heart, Chester. Holy Spirit, Sharon Hill; St. Elizabeth's, St. Gabriel's, St. Bartholomew's and St. Malachy's, all in Philadelphia.

From St. Malachy's he was transferred to Holy Family church in New Philadelphia where he was advanced to the rectorship. His health broke after four years and he went to Summit Hill where he recuperated for the next four years before coming to Pottstown and St. Aloysius' church in January, 1945.

To hear Father Dave's church history, one would think he had time for little else in life. But the young Father Dave found proficiency in baseball before he became ordained and was even offered contracts by big league baseball team scouts.

His baseball skill led to the creation of a friendship between himself and Connie Mack which is still alive today.

He was once called "the best shortstop in the whole Frackville area," according to his family.

In spite of his ill health during past years, Father Dave continues to work unceasingly for the children of his parish. Not a school day goes by that he does not visit the school and talk to the children.

"That was my wish when I became ordained," he said. "I wanted to be able to help children and I always will."

To have a thing is nothing if

A Pleasing Experiment

POTTSTOWN High school pupils and the large faculty had a big day the other day when Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. inaugurated "Opportunity Day."

The day was just what the name connoted.
It was an opportunity for the pupils to do pretty much as they desired. It was a day when they were rewarded for fine efforts during the semester.

The other pasture looks greener to Pottstown High pupils just as much as to the store clerk who'd like to be a flagpole sitter for a day.

So Pottstown High's population tried to see how the other half lives. The commercial pupils took a whack at vocational training, and the bookworms tried their skill in the gymnasium.

Certainly it was refreshing!

But not half as interesting as the faculty found it. The teachers were happy to have heart-to-heart talks with their charges, to offer them advice and to ask them advice.
Some teachers were interviewed by as many as 100 pupils. That in itself attested to the popularity of the "Opportunity Day."

It was a fine experiment, for it helped many a lad and lassie to get out of the rut. Too often we all need a little jarring to take us off the well-beaten path, to get us to change our order for breakfast. Unfortunately, all humans adore a change. But when it comes as fun, or in a sugar-coated capsule such as Principal Davenport prescribed, the change was more than appreciated.

School can be fun instead of druggery.
Days such as these keep Pottstown "teenagers from bagging classes, or quitting all-together too early.

A Day for the Children

CHRISTMAS is a perfectly astonishing festival. It's remarkable how millions of grownups take such endless care to bring delight to children.

The more you think about it, the better you feel a about humankind, the stronger grows the hope that the troubles that burden the world are not important, after all.

Take the simplest sort of example, a sugar cookie that will delight some today's tongue before the trees light up. The inspiration to bake that cookie to delight a child was born centuries ago in some central European kitchen.

The spices that make the child's eyes pop were garnered half a world away from that child in mind, traveled leagues across heaving oceans, passed through endless careful hands. And so with other magic ingredients.

Look for a moment into the memory and heart of the mother who blended and baked and decorated that cookie; the art passed down from generations, the family lore and warm tradition all tenderly consummated when a chubby hand reaches from an overstuffed mouth to ask another.

Start from that point or any other sparkling facet of Christmase and let your mind wander in wonder at what a gathering of affectionate impulses comes together under the Christmas tree and in the Christmas kitchen.

That gleaming toy, shaped and tinted and contrived to bring a shiver of pure joy from a mouth still sweet for lack of years is the product of true genius in such matters.
It began its trip from ingot to youngster a year ago—and who can suggest a better use for the metal and labor it took to make it.
Or that doll in the brightly wrapped box, fired from the finest fragile China and tinted to look like a little girl looks to herself in her dreams! Hold up a few minutes on this busy day and muse upon the amazing quantity of human inspiration it took to put that doll under a Christmas tree.

For the fun of it try to add up the miles traveled by the delightful tastes that can be discovered in a fruit cake or plum pudding!

On other days of the year we are oppressed by the trouble to which men and women will go to make trouble for each other. But the Christmas season somehow renews our sense of proportion about what men and women are.

Give them a kindly task to do, a simple task like bringing joy to children, and the results are utterly fantastic.

READERS SAY:

Reader Backs 3-Way Jointure Plan

Jointure Called Logical

To the Editor: I can't understand why Spring City, Roversford and Limerick school districts don't enter into a joint-ture.

It seems like a logical plan. The three communities are close enough to limit transportation costs. They will have enough pupils to form the basis for a large school.

There are enough people in the three districts to provide the necessary taxes for a first class school with first class persons.

Personally, I don't see why the nine districts which Montgomery county Superintendent Abram Kulp recommends should be joined. From upper Limerick to lower Skippack township is a wide distance.

If this plan is approved pupils will spend a good portion of each day on the road, even if the new high school is centrally located. It seems to me the supply.

WASHINGTON

Dairy Industry Invasion

To Pose Problem For Ike

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Battered by severe competition from margarine, the nation's dairy industry now faces invasion from another quarter through the increasing substitution of vegetable and chemical ingredients for butter fat in the production of butter, cheese, bread, cake, ice cream and solid milk products.
It will give President-elect Eisenhower an extremely difficult politico-economic problem.

Although the battle has escaped general notice, it is being waged in the laboratories, on the farms, in the courts and within the Food and Drug Administration. Despite current efforts to suppress and solve it, it will break out at the next session of Congress. The vegetable and chemical interests will demand liberalization of laws which now protect dairy commodities, as they did on behalf of margarine.

In a sense, it will be another fight between the city boys and the country boys on Capitol Hill. Urban members generally support the newcomers on the ground that the synthetic products mean a great saving for the consumers' market basket. Their success, however, could bring hard times, possibly economic disaster, to the thriving dairy business throughout a large and normally Republican area.

Even now, dairy prices are falling, forcing the Commodity Credit Corporation to buy large amounts to support the retail level.

ERSATZ VICTORY: The invaders have already won an important legal battle. In ruling on a case involving imitation jam, the Supreme court held that the ersatz product did not violate the Food and Drug Act, if properly labeled.

Food-Drug experts will not comment publicly on the implications of this decision, since numerous cases dealing with the use of substitute materials are still in litigation. But they concede that the same judicial reasoning may be applied to the use of substitutes in the manufacture of all dairy commodities.

Thus the chemist may supplant the dairyman, and the laboratory may loom more important than the farm. It is no exaggeration, according to Department of Agriculture officials, that the outcome of the controversy may produce an economic and agricultural revolution.

President-elect Eisenhower's farm advisers are keenly alive to their predicament. Its threat undoubtedly was partially responsible for the surprise appointment of Ezra Taft Benson of Utah as Secretary of Agriculture.

AN EISENHOWER adviser and a prominent candidate for that post was Representative Clifford R. Hope of Kansas. He could have had the job. But if he took it, the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee under Republican control would have been August H. Andresen of Minnesota instead of Hope.

As a Minnesotan, Andresen is a fiery and stubborn dairy champion. He led the fight against legalization of colored margarine. As chairman, he might have raged and ranted over this question, aggravating existing bitterness.
Party harmony and cooperation with Eisenhower might have been endangered.

As a corn-wheat man, Hope is counted on to take a broader and more detached viewpoint. Avoiding a farm bloc split, he is expected to work toward a Solomon-like compromise through Food and Drug amendments that will satisfy the dairy and rival groups, farm producers and city consumers.

Margarine's inroads emphasize the size and nature of the threats to the dairy industry from these new substitutes.

In 1952, or the first time, margarine output will exceed butter's. Agriculture estimates that margarine production for this year will total 1,230,000,000 pounds, as against only 1,500,000,000 for butter. Ten years ago, the comparable figures were 400 million and 2 billion pounds. Margarine's cheaper cost is the answer.

A LITTLE OLD-FASHIONED

Wants Money's Worth
To the Editor: The telephone company finally got its way and now our monthly bills will go up.

Maybe they do need the money, but I'd like to think that in return for the extra charges they'll give us customers a little better service for our money.
For one thing, as other letter writers to the editor have pointed out, Potts-town's much to big a place to have the old-fashioned operator service, rather than dial telephones.

But since we do have operators, I hope that the extra-revenue the telephone company will be having will be used, at least part of it, to train them
a little better.

Maybe then they'll be willing to ring
a number more than once or twice, before getting impatient and either just ignoring you or asking, "Do you want me to keep ringing?"

Also, some of this extra money might be used to do something about the equipment which buzzes, jangles, and generally erupts into our tender eardrums,
usually without warning.

I won't mind too much paying 25
cents a month more on my 'phone bill, but I'd like to have something in return
for my money.

Also, some of this extra money might be used to do something about the equipment which buzzes, jangles, and generally erupts into our tender eardrums,
usually without warning.

I won't mind too much paying 25
cents a month more on my 'phone bill,
but I'd like to have something in return
for my money.

to the editor have pointed out, Potts-town's much to big a place to have the old-fashioned operator service, rather than dial telephones.

But since we do have operators, I hope that the extra-revenue the telephone company will be having will be used, at least part of it, to train them
a little better.

Maybe then they'll be willing to ring
a number more than once or twice, before getting impatient and either just ignoring you or asking, "Do you want
me to keep ringing?"

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By FRED SELBY and NORMAN REED

OSCAR N. SUSSELL, High street dental technician, traces his interest in artificial dentures to the time he broke two of his own teeth on dried ostrich meat.

It happened during World War I in South Africa, when as a youth still in his teens SusSELL was serving in the Ninth South African Infantry.

"We were fighting the Germans," SusSELL related. "Not only did the enemy ambush the safaris, but we found much food spoiled by the dampness during the rainy season. Even flour spoiled, so we had to do with biscuits. About the only thing that would keep in that hot and humid climate was ostrich meat." SusSELL explained.

The tall, husky 53-year-old SusSELL is a native of Mossell Bay, coastal town on the southern tip of the African continent near Capetown.

At the age of 16 he ran away from home to join the British forces fighting the Germans in Southeastern Africa.

"I went to another town to enlist," he explained. "They needed men badly and since I was big for my age they didn't question me too closely about my age."

SusSELL served two years in the shallow trenches and guerrilla bands of the war in Africa before being shipped back to Mossell Bay with malarial fever.

Five months later he was back in the war. This time he served in the motorcycle corps in Portuguese East Africa.

SusSELL recalled his regiment had to depend on the natives for rations or forage for themselves. Often he dined on zebra and giraffe.

SusSELL's war experience also included a six-month stint as a "muleteer." He explained mules were the only draft animal able to stand the African climate.

With the war over, SusSELL attended a medical school in Capetown for six months, where he began the study of dentistry and played the English game of rugby.

There was no specialized course in dentistry at the school, so many of the students planning to be dentists left Africa for schools in England. SusSELL, with characteristic adventurousness, decided to try a dental school here in the United States.

So in 1920, at the age of 21, he came to Philadelphia, where he enrolled at the dental school at the University of Pennsylvania.

He spent two years there learning to be a dental technician. While in school he met Florence Michaud, a dental student at Temple university. They soon married and began practicing dentistry together—she as a dentist who takes care of the patients; he as the technician who makes the dentures.

SusSELL operated a dental X-ray service at his laboratory in Philadelphia for 20 years. He and his wife have been operating a dental service in Pottstown for the past eight years.

For the past 13 years SusSELL and his wife have owned a farm north of Pottstown on Route 100, which they call SusSELL park. They lived there the past eight years.

They have one son, Malcolm A., who is a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army. The son has served in both Europe and Korea. He was wounded in action five times.

Of his life work SusSELL says: "I want people to have good teeth to enjoy eating." Of his farm he says, "I want people to come out and enjoy their leisure there."

THE REV. HAROLD A. ANDERSON, 623 Grant street, pastor of Eureka Independent Community church, who was the first of his race to run for public office in Montgomery county, is one of those rare individuals who can use both formal and informal English with eloquence and precision.

His command of formal English is based partly on his years of study at a mission school in British Columbia, and at a Canadian university, and partly on his continued study, particularly of the classic writers such as Socrates, Aristotle, Plutarch and Shakespeare.

There is one American writer he ranks with these men. "For a plumbing of the depths of wisdom and human experience," he said, "no man overshadows Lincoln."

He also has a knowledge of ancient history and the Latin language. Although he feels that if he had life to live over, he might spend less time in classical study, he said it still has its uses for the pastor of a small church.

"We have to go into the Old Testament and the New Testament, and wherever there is an undergirding of Latin, we have to be able to understand it."

The secret of preaching to a small-town congregation representing all levels of social and cultural background is "to conceal and reveal." What often has to be concealed is a scholarly, specialized knowledge.

"If a preacher gives a subject a treatment that is over the heads of some of his people, they will kill him with silent contempt."

The Rev. Anderson's command of informal, idiomatic English may be a result of the fact that he never forgot what a church leader told him when he was ordained as an elder of the Afro-Methodist Episcopal church in Philadelphia.

"Study books, but study men also."

Typical of his vigorous idioms were his reference to a young minister who, after only a year in the pulpit, "was preached out;" and his remark that a certain church he knew would be a rewarding one for ministers "in 100 or 200 years, but we can't wait around that long."

The Rev. Anderson, a small man with a ready smile and a slow, careful way of picking the right phrase, has been pastor of Eureka Independent Community church, a small church on North Washington street, for the past 13 years.

Because the church is small, he has a fulltime job in addition to his church work. He is a maintenance man in Montgomery County courthouse, Norristown. He's worked in the courthouse for the past 16 years.

In 1936, he made 16 speeches in Montgomery county on behalf of the Republican ticket. In 1937, he ran in the September primary as Independent Republican candidate for nomination as jury commissioner. He lost, but he polled nearly 10,000 votes, 521 of them from Pottstown alone.

When he first came to Pottstown in 1933, he was pastor of Bethel AME church, but he later left this post to lead the independent church.

Born in Calgary, British Columbia, on the Fourth of July, 1901, he was more or less adopted by a family after his mother died when he was a baby.

He attended public schools there before going to mission school and McGill university, Montreal, for three years, working in the Summers.

He worked in war plants in New York during World War I, then studied to become an elder in the AME church. When he was 26, he was ordained as elder, the youngest new one in the conference.

The Rev. Anderson has been living at the Grant street home most of the period he has been in Pottstown. His wife is Mrs. Erie V. Anderson. They have no children.

10 Area Residents Placed on Jury List

Ten Pottstown area persons were chosen to sit on Chester county common pleas juries during the Jan. 19 term of court at West Chester.

Drawn were:

A. Erwin Colver, accountant, North Coventry; Fred D. Hunter, real estate, Spring City; Herbert E. Lambert Jr., executive, Uwchlin; Frank Shaner, machinist, North Coventry; Kennel Summers, manager, Honey Brook.

Also, Frank Fahringer, bookkeeper, South Coventry; Logan Emery, maintenance, Honey Brook; Warren H. Smith, salesman, Uwchlin; Rufus Ecker, foreman, North Coventry, and Robert Just, engineer, Honey Brook.

Agricultural Group Elects Barlo Man To Top Position

Walter B. Lutz, Barlo poultryman, is the new president of the Montgomery County Agricultural Extension Association.

The former vice president of the association was elected to the presidency at the group's 39th annual meeting yesterday morning in Hendricks Memorial hall, Collegeville.

A graduate of Pennsylvania State college, Lutz is also an official of the State Poultry association.

Robert Meloy, Sanatoga fruit grower and poultryman, was elected treasurer of the county organization.

Charles E. Wismer, Trappe, was on the committee making the nominations.

HONOR GUESTS at the meeting were County Commissioners Foster C. Hillegas, Pennsburg, and Raymond K. Mensch, Gilbertsville.

The Rev. Alfred L. Creager, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Collegeville, offered the invocation.

Reports were read by R. G. Waltz, Limerick, county farm agent; and Walter S. Stearly, Trappe, auditor.

H. D. Allebach, Trappe, and David Wood, Red Hill, served on the program committee, which arranged for the principal speaker at the morning session, James Keim, Penn State college, who spoke on "The Rural Community in Europe."

Judiciary Group Opposes Squires' Fee Grabbing

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—Dawson A. Mack, newly elected president of the Allegheny County Judiciary association, said today his group will propose legislation to prevent illegal fee grabbing by squires.

Mack said a committee will meet with District Attorney James F. Malone to outline the legislation.

Speaker at the afternoon session was Dr. Lyman S. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture at Penn State college.

Strike-bound Neapco Products company, South and Cross streets, remained idle early this morning. Pickets continued their vigil over the idle plant.

Paul Mitchell, vice president and factory manager, said, "We don't expect any change until the union meets on Saturday."

Members of Local 2479, United Steel Workers (CIO), will conduct their December session on tomorrow morning in the CIO hall, 364 King street.

The company has offered workers the base rate of pay for any union-company conference before a job when they are taken off their Federal mediator Tuesday.

ARTHRITIS Pains Gone!

Mrs. Margaret Williams, 221 S. Main St., Avoca, Pa., writes:

"Dear Sirs: I am a widow 77 years old, and have had arthritis in my fingers, arms, and legs—in fact all over—for ten years. The pain was terrific. I did not know what to do for it. It is impossible to describe how awful the pain was. My hands and knees were very stiff. I could hardly walk up or down steps, and I could not close my fingers. Now after taking Crown Hill Mineral Water I can close my fingers and get up and down steps. Practically all the pain is gone."

Know Your Mercury Carrier

(This is the second of a series to acquaint Mercury readers with the fine boys who deliver the paper.)

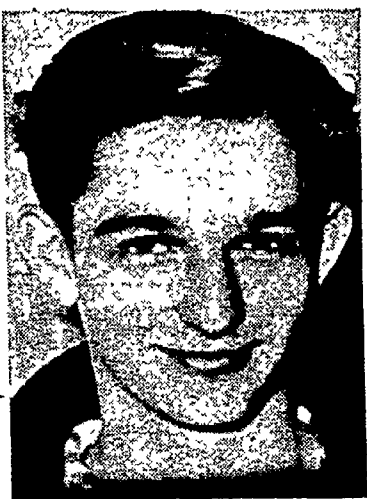

Among the 50 or more newspaper boys who trudge daily through all sorts of weather to bring The Mercury to your doorstep, Douglas Schwenk is one of the most faithful.

Schwenk, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwenk, 940 Queen street, has been serving your favorite newspaper for the past two and a half years. He is an 11th grade pupil at Pottstown High school where he is studying mechanical drawing. He hopes to be a draftsman some day.

Doug is one of five children. His father is employed as janitor at the Rupert School.

He is active in local music circles, plays trumpet in the high school band and is currently forming an orchestra of his own.

Doug also enjoys baseball and basketball.

He serves a long route that includes a large segment of the East End. His route serves High and Queen streets from Madison to Keim street.

Brazilian Red Cross Pays in Coffee Beans

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Executive committee of the League of Red Cross societies agreed today to permit the Brazilian Red Cross to pay its 1951 and 1952 contributions to the society in coffee beans. Brazilian currency restrictions prevented the 20,000-franc ($4700) annual contribution being paid in cash.

Eighteen Red Cross societies were represented at the opening of the Executive committee's annual meeting today, including the Red Cross societies of the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Three Put on Probation For Friend's Fatal Leap

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—Two young socialites were placed on probation for one year today for daring a Marine veteran friend to make a fatal leap from a bridge. Visiting Judge J. Frank Graf of bel-Armstrong county also fined George Frick, 24, of Sewickley Heights, and John J. Edson 4, 25, of Edgeworth, $200 each.

Both pleaded no defense to charges of involuntary manslaughter in the fatal plunge of Gilbert Hayes, 26, of Sewickley from the Sewickley bridge in 1951 on a $50

2 Youths Stage Holdup; Pair Held as Suspects

SMITHPORT, Dec. 11 (AP)—Two youths brandishing revolvers rifled a cash register of $205 today and fled from the J. D. Diner on Route 6 between here and Coudersport.

Seven hours later, State Police arrested two youths in Austin, Potter county, and brought them here for questioning.

Guy Mayo, assistant McKean county district attorney, identified them as Thomas E. Berry, 17, of Scenery Hill, Washington county, and Donald R. Hosaflook, 20, of New Salem, Fayette county. No charges have been filed.

The annual Christmas party of the Women's Society for Christian service, Bethel Methodist church, held in the social room of the church, was attended by 23 members of the organization.

Hostesses for the event were Mabel Zollers and Mrs. Thomas E. Anderman; they conducted the devotional period which preceded a brief business session. A carol service was led by Mrs. Anderman, and Judy Robinson, in the costume of an angel, read the Christmas story.

Mrs. Roy B. Hall, president of the group, had charge of the program. As she read a story, each woman present placed a star on an untrimmed tree, symbolic of the part each woman personally takes in spreading christianity and of her importance to the cause.

During the business session it was reported that 45 pounds of clothing have been sent to Korea for distribution to the needy. The organization completed payment of the papeing of the parsonage kitchen.

Gifts were exchanged and appropriate refreshments were served. The gay decorations were in keeping with the holiday season.

The Married Couples club of Bethel Methodist church held a turkey banquet at the church; 59 members of the organization were present. The social room of the church was decorated for the party; a feature was an exchange of Christmas gifts.

George Walters, Spring City, was the speaker for the event showing his picture of The Last Supper, and explaining the life of each of the Disciples.

The Polyanna class of the Bethel Methodist church will hold its annual holiday banquet at Flasher's restaurant, Spring City, on Thursday evening.

The altar flowers at Brownback's Evangelical and Reformed church honored the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brungess, Bridge street, Spring City. Mrs. Brungess is director of the choir at Brownback's church.

Plans are being completed for the annual Candlelight Musical service to be held at 8 p. m. Dec. 21 at Brownback's church. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Brungess.

The pageant to be presented at the church on Christmas eve will be directed by Mrs. Wilmer Hahn.

Between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. Saturday, Kindergarten department of the church will be entertained at a Christmas party at the church. The party is under the direction of Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Harry Cook and Mrs. Lee Shepherd.

Thomas Ernest Mourar, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mourar, was baptized at Brownback's church with members of the immediate family in attendance.

Twenty-six men attended the dart ball tournament at Brownback's church.

The Ladies auxiliary of the Ridge Fire company plans a Christmas party to be held in connection with the meeting of the organization on Thursday evening. The party will feature an exchange of gifts.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Ibach, Mrs. Earl Weaver Jr. and Mrs. John Weaver. Each member will bring a gift.

The Ladies aid of Brownback's church held a Christmas party with luncheon and gift exchange at the regular weekly meeting of the organization held on Wednesday.

The Women's guild of the East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church will present a Christmas program during the guild meeting on Sunday morning. Gifts of toys and clothing will be received for the children of the Bethany Orphanage, Womelsdorf. Cash gifts received at the annual Candlelight Communion service on Christmas eve also will be sent to the orphanage. The service will be held at 8 p. m., and a candlelighting ceremony will be a significant part of the service.

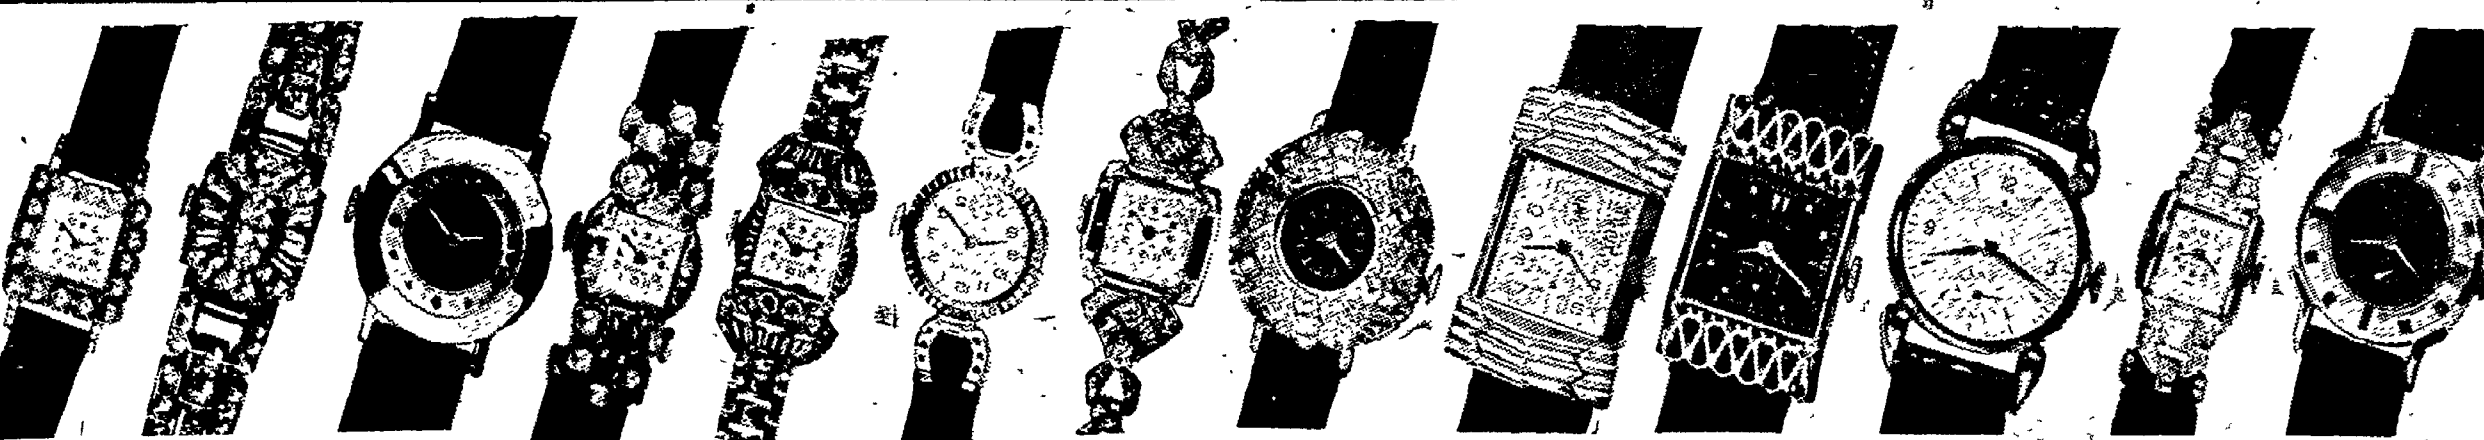

During the regular worship service at the East Vincent church, pastor, the Rev. Robert F. Brillhart, spoke on the sermon topic "A Word of Hope".

An Army amphibious duck is the only vehicle which would have been at home on the soggy grounds of Manatoway park baseball field yesterday. Brown waters from the Manatoway spilled over saturated banks and covered the field, one result of the 2.4 inches of rain which soaked the area. (Story on Page 1, More pictures on Pages 11 and 15).

Study Shows Lung Cancer Deaths Increase in Proportion to Smoking

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP) — The British Medical Journal said today a four-year study showed death from lung cancer increases as tobacco smoking increases.

A report summarizing results of the study said "it is concluded that the association between smoking and carcinoma (cancer) of the lung is real."

"Our estimates indicate that the risk of dying of lung carcinoma increases with age, as is of course known, and in approximately simple arithmetical proportion with the amount smoked," it said.

The 15-page report, published as the leading article in this week's Medical Journal, was written by Dr. Richard Doll and Dr. A. Bradford Hill, both leading members of the British Medical Research Council.

IN A PRELIMINARY REPORT published in the Medical Journal two years ago, Doll and Hill said a careful inquiry among 2475 patients in 20 London hospitals showed that smoking is "an important factor in the production of carcinoma of the lung."

Their final report today said the study had been extended in the past two years to four cities and two rural areas outside London as well as continued in eight London hospitals.

In all, nearly 5000 hospital patients were interviewed by four specially appointed researchers in the past four years.

The study followed a decision by the British Medical Research Council that rapidly increasing deaths from lung cancer justified a search for the causes.

Similar studies carried out recently in the United States reached the same general conclusion. reached the respiratory tract," the Doll and Hill said that, in the doctors added.

greater London area, "among men of ages 45-64 the death rate in non-smokers is negligible while in the heavier-smoking categories it is estimated to reach three to five deaths per annum per 1000 living."

They said the study showed little difference in cancer rates between smokers who inhale and those who don't. But they added there are "appreciably lower risks for pipe smokers compared with cigarette smokers."

Cigarette holders and filter-tipped cigarettes, also "might partly separate out an active agent before it reached the respiratory tract," the

Garage Worker Injures Fingers in Radiator Fan

Max Draushak, 24, of Pottstown RD 4, suffered cuts of his third and fourth fingers of his left hand when he caught them in an automobile fan, it was reported yesterday by Memorial hospital's dispensary.

He was working in the Sanatoga garage of his father, Michael Draushak, when the accident happened. His fingers also were injured at the nails.

In ancient times and during the Middle Ages, even reputable authorities often confused Ethiopia with India.

Here Today! The '53 FORD

The new Standard of the American Road

With 41 "Worth More" features, it's worth more when you buy it...worth more when you sell it!

Search no more: the car that exceeds your every driving need is making its bow at your Ford Dealer's!

Those of you who have owned Fords in recent years have a hint of the many ways in which this new 1953 Ford is out front. Year after year, Ford has gained in preference with the public. But that is merely a clue to the many ways in which this '53 Ford sets an entirely new standard for the American Road.

For in this new Ford you'll find new, long, low, massive beauty that can hold court in any company. You'll find a new Miracle Ride that sets a new standard of smooth, quiet comfort on level highways or roughest byways. You'll find the easy handling and great visibility you need for today's fast-moving traffic... the "Go" to master today's long-distance driving. And you'll find that this new Ford not only has a small appetite for fuel, but it thrives on regular gas.

See this Ford... Value Check its 41 "Worth More" features... and Test Drive it. You'll see why this new standard-setting car is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it.

SEE IT...VALUE-CHECK IT...TEST DRIVE IT!

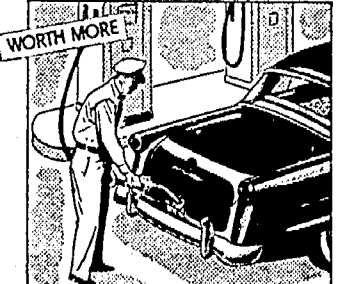

CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX ENGINES—Ford's 110-h.p. high-compression Stratostar V-8 has a partner for thrifty "Go" in the 101-h.p. low-friction, high-compression Mileage Maker Six—the only completely modern Six in its field.

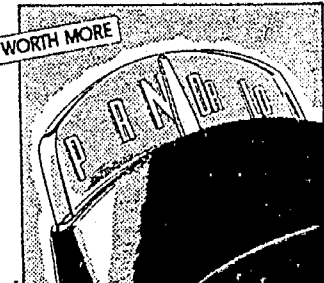

New Miracle Ride brings you riding comfort at its level best! Not just softer springs and new shock absorber action, but a smoothly coordinated system of ride control elements that adjusts instantly and automatically to changing road conditions. It's a completely balanced ride... a ride that seems to lay a carpet of smoothness on any road you drive.

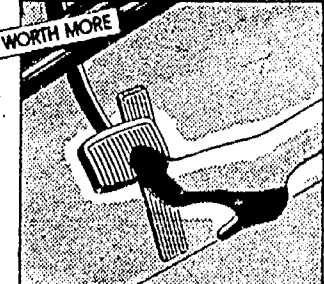

Full-Circle Visibility gives you an unobstructed view of the road... and all the scenery. I-REST tinted safety glass makes driving easier on your eyes, day or night.

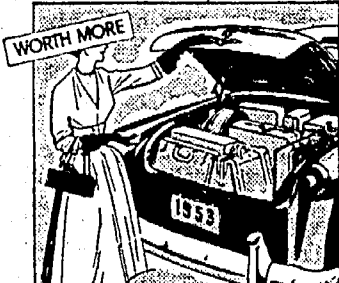

Center-Fill Fueling prevents hose marks on the finish of your car. No gas spill on fenders. Short, out-of-the-way fill pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.

Shift to Fordomatic... and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever. Ford also offers the smooth, thrifty Overdrive.

Power-Pivot Pedals are suspended from above to operate more easily... to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes and make foot space of the entire floor space.

Key-Release Deck Lid opens automatically on counterbalancing hinges when you turn key. Note extra luggage space! Ford's hood is counterbalanced, too!

Automatic Power Pilot saves you money because it gives you high-compression "Go" with regular gas. An economy feature on both V-8 and Six.

Pittsburgh Oil Pipeline Goes Into Operation

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP) — A new oil pipeline to Pittsburgh went into operation today.

The Tuscarora Oil company opened a new branch of its Trans-Pennsylvania Petroleum products pipe line which connects with the main line nine miles north of Pittsburgh. The 6-inch spur has a daily capacity of 300,000 gallons.

This Is a Street

There were places in Pottstown yesterday where streets resembled miniature lakes and streams. A sedan ploughs a temporary furrow through a lake at Charlotte and Prospect streets. Similar splashes on other streets made it rough on pedestrians. But then there weren't many walkers. It was just too wet. (Story on Page 1. More pictures on Pages 8 and 15).

Bank Cashier Pleads Guilty of Embezzling

MEDIA, Dec. 11 (AP) — Mrs. Thelma P. Orr, 43-year-old assistant cashier of the Prospect State bank, was sentenced today to serve four to eight years in prison on charges of embezzling $40,055. Weeping, Mrs. Orr told Judge Arthur P. Brethrick that she began to take money in the 1930's to care for an ailing uncle. Her husband, George, a machinist, testified he knew nothing of his wife's actions and added that "she didn't even have to work." The couple have no children. Mrs. Orr was arrested the past August when the shortage was found by a bank examiner, who testified to the exact total today. She was widely known and respected in Prospect Park, a Philadelphia suburban community, and residents said at the time they were shocked and astonished by the disclosure. She pleaded guilty to embezzlement and fraudulent conversion.

PARLIAMENT TO ADJOURN
LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP) — The Conservative government announced today Britain's parliament will adjourn on Friday, Dec. 19, for a Christmas recess lasting until Jan. 20.

SPECIAL WEEK SET
HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine today called on Pennsylvanians to observe "Good Neighbor Week" from Dec. 14 through Dec. 20.

QUICK RELIEF OF MINOR THROAT IRRITATION

New Miracle Drug Brings associated with colds, smoking, and other common irritants

New, wonderful NEO-AQUA-DRIN is fast and effective — works two ways: (1) relieves minor irritation and discomfort almost at once; (2) antibiotic miracle drug, Tyrothricin, combats Gram-positive germs which may cause minor throat irritation.

NEO-AQUA-DRIN is guaranteed to average up to twice as much of the pain-relieving local anesthetic or germ-inhibiting ingredients as most other leading products. Made by McKesson and Robbins, Bridgeport, Conn.

ROKs Strike Through Fog, Haze to Win Back 1 Hill

SEOUL, Friday, Dec. 12 (AP)—Due north of Seoul. They quickly hurled Republic of Korea troops off the south slope. The fight for nearby Little Nori was more bitter. The South Koreans were shoved off at the onset of the Red attack in the early hours of Thursday, but counter-attacked and re-won it. After hand-to-hand battling in caves, the Chinese threw in reinforcements. At dusk Thursday the exhausted South Koreans pulled back, leaving Little Nori in Red hands. South Korean counterattacks at 3 and 4 a. m. today reached the crest of Little Nori, but each time Chinese grenade and rifle fire drove the ROKs back. The ROK troops launched a third counterattack at 8 a. m. today, behind thunderous tank and artillery fire. THE REDS struck from positions they already held on the north slope of Big Nori, about 40 miles

Goodies' Ambulance Makes 210 Calls

The Good Will Fire company made 210 ambulance calls during November. It was reported at last night's session fire calls for the year now stand one shy of the 100 mark. The company made nine calls during the past month to reach 99 for the year. The 43 members present voted to accept nine applications and elected 14 new members. Final arrangements were made for the company children's Christmas party, which will include, a magician, a Punch and Judy show and a Christmas stocking for all children. Children will be taken for rides on the fire engine at the Dec. 21 party. Refreshments were served by Harold Wentzel, Seventh Montgomery county district fire marshal, a member of the Good Wills.

REPORT GIVEN ON CHRISTIANITY VS. COMMUNISM

Church Body Hears Bishop Dibelius Talk
On Germany

DENVER, Dec. 11 (AP)—America's most representative church body today heard a first-hand report of Christianity behind the Iron Curtain in Germany—of arrests, restrictions and fear—of a bishop and his great following locked in a battle with Communism.

The report came from Bishop Otto Dibelius, the grey-haired, outspoken spiritual leader of 40,000,000 Protestants, most of whom live in the Eastern zone of Germany.

"In such an atmosphere of hostility," he said, "it is not easy to live as a Christian."

But the 72-year-old bishop added: "The church grows stronger."

"A RELIGION can be conquered only through another religion which proves to be stronger," he said. "Communism will be conquered only through the Christian faith."

Bishop Dibelius, one of the few men in Germany who moves back and forth across the East-West German boundary to administer to his flock, had flown here from Berlin to address the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA.

Before he spoke, reporters asked at a news conference if he weren't afraid his remarks might cause reprisals when he returns home. The bishop, a short, goateed, bright-eyed man, grinned and said: "I have told my own people everything I tell you. The Russians know what I believe."

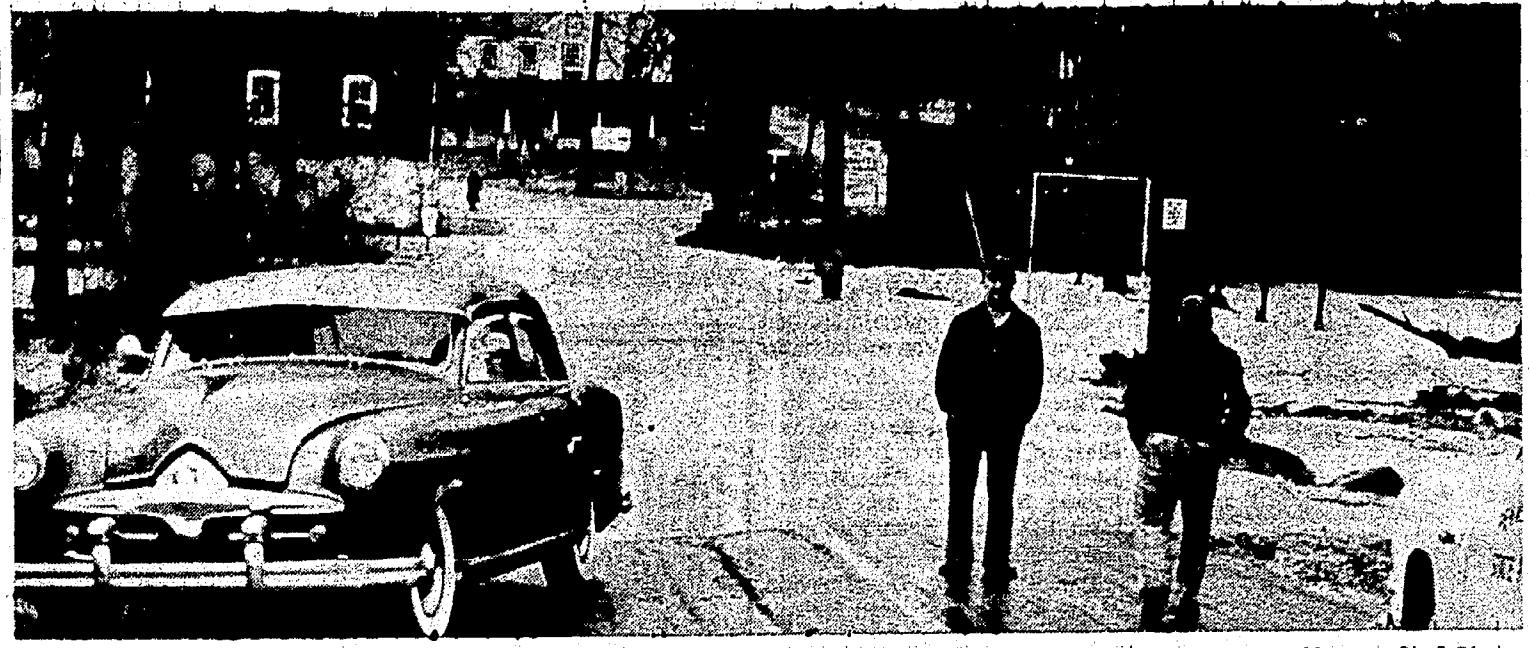

To the 2000 church leaders here, representing 34-million members of 30 Protestant and eastern orthodox denominations in this country, the bishop said:

"God has made Germany a battlefield in this fight. We realize that is a fatal question for all the world whether we Christians in Germany withstand and finally win. Nobody can relieve us of this responsibility. Nobody can help us in this decisive question."

He spoke in Denver's huge Civic auditorium where church men sat at white and blue draped tables and filled the balconies.

Some peoples of the world do not use salt with their food.

Driver Died After Battle With Water

A vacant sedan stands near where its driver died of a heart attack after a tussle with the churning waters of the Perkiomen creek, Route 29, Perkiomenville. Lewis A. Fisher, Allentown, train dispatcher for the Reading company, died after his sedan stalled in flood waters across Route 29 at approximately 7:10 a. m. (Story on Page 1. More pictures on Pages 8 and 11).

Wilkes-Barre Area Transit Fares Raised

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Public Utility commission today authorized the Wilkes-Barre Transit corporation to make permanent a two-cent increase in base fares.

At the same time the commission ordered a revised zone setup to meet city objections.

Under the PUC order the base 12-cent trackless trolley and bus fare, in effect since last June, will be continued for one or two zone rides. Five cents is charged for each additional zone and also for transfers.

The new schedule, permanently replacing the former 10-cent cash fare, eight and 94 cent tokens and three-cent transfers, was ordered filed with the commission within five days from the time the company received the order.

THE TRANSIT LINE furnishes service in the Wilkes-Barre-Kingston-Luzerne area, with routes to Nanticoke, Old Forge and Dallas. It originally filed for higher fares to become effective last April 13.

Under the new zone plan, submitted by the firm at the PUC's suggestion, boundaries are arranged to give all city riders a flat 12-cent fare over a single or connecting route.

Some riders otherwise would have had to pay 17 cents for a similar ride.

It is believed that the area now occupied by the Sahara Desert was a fertile region when man first appeared there.

Owls Schedule Party For Member's Children

A Christmas party complete with Santa Claus, gifts and refreshments will be held Dec. 21 at 1 p. m. by Pottstown Owls Nest 1393 for members' children, it was announced yesterday.

Plans were completed yesterday at the meeting of the fraternal organization at 8 p. m.

Thirty members attended the meeting in which one new member was accepted and six applications for membership received.

William A. Lessig Jr., president, presided at the business session.

Immigration Inspectors Will Go Aboard Ships

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Special immigration inspectors will be placed aboard some of the big foreign passenger ships to screen crews before Dec. 24 when new immigration regulations go into effect.

The Justice department disclosed the first inspector left yesterday from New York aboard the French liner Liberte to begin the task of checking the political reliability of each crew member, thus determining whether they are eligible to go ashore at American ports.

A Justice department official said the American Government has told the British it is willing to fly immigration inspectors to London to be placed aboard Britain's two big ocean liners, the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth.

Transit and Union Officials to Resume Talks in Philadelphia's Strike Threat

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—Transit and union officials agreed today to resume negotiations in Philadelphia's threatened transportation strike but New York's bus dispute was still as serious as ever.

Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. called a hasty meeting this afternoon in his city hall office here. After conferring behind closed doors for a half hour with officials of the Philadelphia Transportation company and the CIO-Transport Workers union, Clark announced the two groups had agreed to resume contract negotiations at the same place tomorrow morning.

The Philadelphia transit workers voted to go on strike Sunday night if no contract agreement had been reached by then. Negotiations were broken off completely two days ago.

In the New York transit picture, Theodore W. Kheel, impartial chairman of the transit industry there, today forbade bus drivers from carrying passengers without charging fares. Delegates to the CIO-Transport Workers union voted in their national convention here yesterday to approve a resolution calling for the no-fare move by bus drivers on nine privately-owned New York city bus lines starting Sunday night.

Michael J. Quill, TWU president, said the drivers would refuse to collect fares "in a display of true Christmas spirit." The bus drivers, seeking a 25-cent hourly wage boost and a 40-hour work week, have threatened to strike Dec. 31 if their demands are not met.

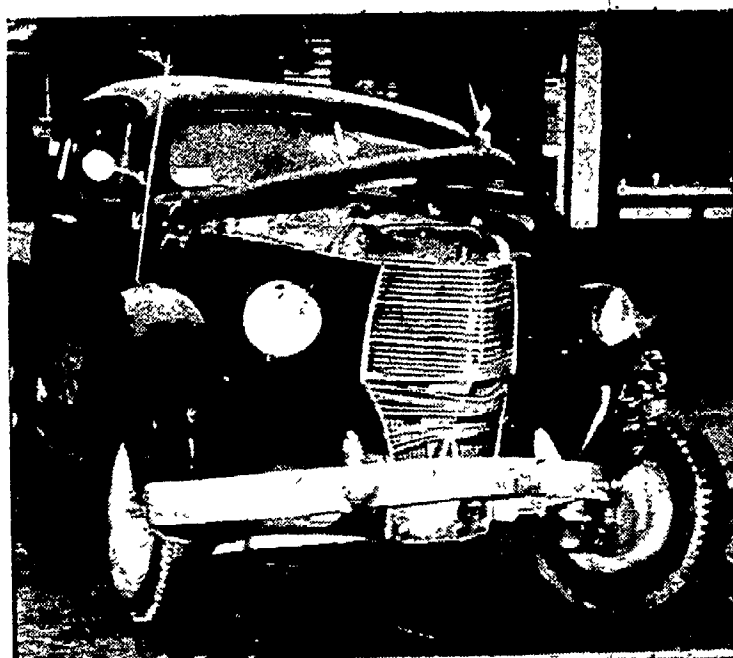

KHEEL WIRED TWU leaders in Philadelphia that any refusal to collect bus fares would be a clear violation of the union's present contracts with the bus lines.

And Mayor Vincent Impellitteri said he did not believe Quill would carry out his threat to stop fare collections.

"I don't think even Mr. Quill would be that capricious," said Mayor Impellitteri.

About 10,000 bus drivers are involved in the New York wage dispute. They now average about $1.87 an hour for a 48-hour week. Approximately 10,500 transit workers would be affected by the Philadelphia strike. They now average about $1.67 an hour.

The right front of a car driven by Mrs. Gertrude Griffith, 520 King street, was crunched after a collision with a sedan, operated by Edward H. Romig, 42 Beech street, yesterday morning. The accident took place at King and Warren streets. (Story on Page 1).

LONDON PAPER SOLD

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Lord Kemsley today sold the tabloid London papers, Lord Rothermere's group, which owns the rival Daily Mail. The purchase price was not disclosed.

State Bureau Takes 1 Motorist's License, Suspends 6 Others

One Pottstown area motorist had his license revoked, six drivers had their driving privileges suspended and two had their licenses restored by the Bureau of Highway Safety reported yesterday.

Ralph L. Weis, 456 Chestnut street, Fifth ward councilman, had his license revoked on an intoxication charge.

Three drivers had their licenses suspended on speeding charges. They were Dennis M. Hospador, 411 East Race street, Stowe; Elmer Jackson, Pottstown RD 4 and Leon F. Butt, Boyertown RD 2.

Daniel Keeley, Douglassville, had his license suspended for failure to satisfy judgment and file proof of financial responsibility.

The license of Alvin N. Williams, 710 Mintzer street, was suspended for failure to attend a hearing. Wilson W. Nester Jr., 388 Spruce street, had his privileges suspended or driving without the owner's consent.

Restorations were made to Raymond Timmons, 318 East Fourth street, Boyertown, and Sophie M. Trego, 626 Walnut street, Royersford.

New School Authority Chooses Officers

dence in the school board's decision and feel that you as solicitor are more qualified than any of us to decide whether the contract is okay."

Heise added, "I agree with that except I believe we should let the school board handle the affairs of the building after we accept assignment."

"That's the plan," Binder said. "We will work together as a team."

THE MOTION for the authority to agree to a assignment was accepted.

John B. Bunting, field supervisor of authority financing at Janney and Company, submitted a letter to the board and authority on his company's request to act as advisor on the bond issue.

He said, "In the event we are finally awarded the bonds under this contract, we will waive our entire fee, depending on a profit, if any, from the sale of the bonds to our clients."

Bunting said that the profit from the successful sale of the bonds will compensate the company for the preparation of the issue. Fees will be charged if the proposal for the bond issue is not accepted, he stated, but these will be comparatively nominal.

A letter from Sanders and Thomas reported general construction drawings for the school building are 98 percent completed and will be finished Monday.

Other progress reports made by the architect for the West End school were as follows: general construction specifications, 100 percent completed; plumbing drawings and specifications, 90 percent completed; electrical drawings and specifications, 95 percent completed; and heating and ventilating specifications, 85 percent completed.

THE ENTIRE PROJECT of the architect will be finished Monday. The firm requested the authority to meet Tuesday to review the specifications.

School board and the authority called a special session Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the administration building.

Sanders and Thomas said that after the review, the architects will take the project to Harrisburg for required State approvals. Any changes suggested at the special meeting will be made before the plans are taken to the State capital.

The architectural firm announced in the letter that Jan. 5 will be the date drawings and specifications will be issued for bidding. The letter stated this would allow for enough time to obtain approvals, make a final printing of the plans and specifications and advertise for bids.

Jan. 30 was suggested by Sanders and Thomas as the date to receive bids at the administration building. If the company's proposals are followed, the company stated, the completion date for the building will be Sept. 1, 1953.

THE LETTER COMMENTED, "The architects believe the time schedule as outlined is a realistic one and a schedule that can be met by complete cooperation of the successful low bidders of the various trades."

Bunting said, "If the firm does what it says it can do, have bids by Jan. 30, then our company should be able to draw up the bond issue in about six days if the bids are close to the estimate of the cost at present."

"I am working on a tentative bond issue which can be altered to meet any bid near the estimate, but if the bids are far off, then it will take a little longer to draw up the issue to meet the big change."

Heise remarked, "I don't think the time given to the contractors is enough. You'll find that when the deadline for bids arises many contractors band together and petition for an extension of the time."

Hospitals Are Fourth Largest US Business

Albert Pollick, Memorial hospital administrator, spoke on "Hospitals and Inflation" before the American Business club at its election meeting last night.

Hospitals, he told the club, have become the fourth largest business in the country, with a total investment of $8 billions.

Stressing that most hospitals are non-profit organizations, Pollick pointed out that they often offer free service in needy cases or ask only a partial payment.

Officers elected last night are: Walter McCurdy Jr., president; Joe L. Bowen, first vice president; Joe L. Bowen, second vice president; George Longacre, secretary; Charles Grubb, treasurer; and William Bernhardt, Stanley Freese, Oliver Gilbert and Harold Squibb, governors.

You still have time to dash off at least a short note to your child, written as though you were Santa himself, and mail it at the office of The Mercury. It will bring your child as much happiness as electric trains, a wagon, a doll house or a sled.

If you are one of the late senders who has written a letter and failed to post it at the special mailbox at The Mercury or Automobile club offices, check your letter before dropping it off today to be certain there is a 6-cent air mail stamp on it and that it is properly addressed to the child you wish to receive it.

The deadline cannot be extended. Your last chance to give your child the thrill of receiving a personal letter from the ruler of the North Pole is today at 11 a. m.

Court Frees Trucker Up for Manslaughter

EASTON, Dec. 11 (AP) — A truck driver charged with involuntary manslaughter in the highway deaths of five persons was acquitted today in Northampton county court.

Ralph Bowers Jr., 24, of Pottsville, was the driver of a truck which crashed with an auto on the Easton-Newburg road near here last Aug. 1. All five occupants of the machine were killed as it side-swiped Bowers' vehicle and crashed head-on into another truck.

The victims were John Cottle, 36, the driver, and his wife, Helen, 28, of Alverne, N. Y.; Stephen Mayernick, 23, and his wife, Gertrude, 22, of Newark, N. J.; and Verna Mayernick, 16, of Wilburton, Pa.

came a YMCA secretary during his student days at Langston university. He is also a former boys' work secretary at the Chicago YMCA.

During his stay in Pottstown he also addressed the student bodies of North Coventry High school and Pottstown High school at special assemblies.

He was introduced at the joint meeting last night by Pottstown YMCA secretary James F. Baird, who was introduced by YMCA president Charles S. Nagle.

Nagle presided at the dinner meeting and welcomed new members who have joined the YMCA during the past year.

Walter F. Heise, president of Rotary, spoke briefly, stressing the spirit of service underlying activities of the two organizations.

Paul H. Grim, principal of North Coventry High school, introduced two of his pupils, Edward West and Harriet Delwiler, who performed on the French horn and piano.

Paul Yarmush, student leader at Norco High school also was introduced.

Antonoff Denies Charge Of Misconducting Bids

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP) — A councilman from suburban West Homestead denied any wrong doing today as a trial opened for 13 present and former borough officials on charges of misconduct in awarding bids.

The opening testimony was given by the Allegheny county court by Councilman Tony J. Antonoff, who was questioned about the 1951 borough garbage contract. Antonoff said the higher of two bidders got the contract because the low bidder failed to meet specifications. The misconduct charges were brought by President John J. Rice of the West Homestead Taxpayers league and other league officials.

RECORD REACHED OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (AP) — Union membership in Canada reached a record 1,146,000 by the end of 1951, the Labor department estimated today.

The 41st anniversary of Chester Valley grange was celebrated recently with a baked ham supper served at the grange hall. Forty-eight members of the organization were present to enjoy the meal and the program which followed.

The meeting was held at the hall at Devault.

The affair had been planned for the regular meeting night but was postponed because of the snow and slippery roads. The menu included scalloped potatoes, french beans, scalloped tomatoes, apple sauce, pickles, jellies, home-baked rolls, cherry and apple pie and coffee. The meal was served on card tables in the auditorium of the hall.

Raymond Wharton, master of the organization, conducted a business session. The annual Christmas party for the children will be held in the near future, Joseph Moore announced.

Aldus Herr, chairman of the recreation committee, announced a dance at the Grange hall, Devault, on the evening of Dec. 20. Between 50 and 60 persons attended the affair which was held at the hall.

Music was furnished to the needy. A portion of the money received in the collection that night will be used to provide material to be made into garments for the Needlework guild.

"When You and I Were Young, Maggie" was sung by the group during the program. Harmon D. Charles Merroth, recently discharged from the service after spending some time in Austria, showed colored pictures taken on his trip giving much information regarding life overseas. Several pictures of Salzburg and Wolfgang, where Franz Josef spent most of his time, were of historical interest. Some of the scenes showed farmers at work in the fields with wagons pulled by manpower, oxen or cows.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Barbara Flinn and Lewis W. Pyle, both of whom observed their birthday anniversaries.

Mrs. Joseph Andrews, 826 Main street, spent a weekend at the Dominican Retreat house, Elkins Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamoreux and their son and daughter, David and Katherine, gave vocal selections "Ting a Ling" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." Mrs. Edward Segner contributed a recitation "Sister Simmons."

The groceries, which were donated at the recent Thanksgiving service sponsored by the grange, were presented to Dora Warner, Chester Valley Community Nursing service, for distribution when he was Master.

KE'S JOURNEY TO KOREA HIT BY PRESIDENT

Trip Called Demagoguery; MacArthur's Solution Brings Skepticism

DOOR CLOSED BY TRUMAN ON PARLEY OF THE 3 MEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman today denounced President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's trip to Korea as a piece of demagoguery and said he doubts that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has any new solution to end the Korean War.

Virtually slamming the door on proposals for a White House meeting with Eisenhower and MacArthur, the President told his news conference he believes such a conference would serve no useful purpose.

The proposals had been made by members of Congress. Truman said that as a matter of courtesy he would be glad to see Eisenhower and MacArthur at any time if they have anything to discuss. But he made it clear the initiative would have to come from them.

The President also made it plain that although he considers it MacArthur's duty as a soldier to come forward if he has any solution for the war—and to present it through military channels—Truman does not plan to force the General's hand.

IT IS A LITTLE LATE for that now, the President said.

In scornful tones, Truman said he doubts that MacArthur has anything new to offer beyond the proposals made the past year and rejected by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Police Beat Back Mob of Moroccans Marching on Rabat European Quarter

RABAT, French Morocco, Dec. 11 (AP)—French Colonial police and soldiers today beat back 2000 angry Moroccan demonstrators marching on the European quarter here today and jailed 300 of them.

The mob charged, throwing stones, but the police scattered them with clubs. It was the major outbreak of a fifth day of riots and demonstrations, apparently protesting the wholesale arrest of Nationalist leaders by the French.

One Arab was killed and two others were seriously wounded when occupants of an automobile opened fire in Rabat's Douar Akkari section. The car sped away. The victims were passersby, and there was no immediate explanation of the incident, authorities said.

Riotous demonstrations centering in Casablanca already have led to the deaths of seven or eight Europeans and many Moroccans this week.

French officials, trying to break the back of the demonstrations, today banned the Communist and Moroccan independence (Istiqlal) parties. The ban followed by only a few hours a midnight roundup of 26 top-level independence party leaders.

Moroccan Communists were rounded up, hustled into planes and flown to France, while the Arab Nationalists were confined in police-guarded quarters in Morocco's southern desert.

Eisenhower Lands At Hawaii Where He Will Conclude Talks

HONOLULU, Dec. 11 (AP)—President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower came from the frozen desolation of the Korean War into the brilliant beauty of Hawaii today where he will conclude top-level talks before returning to New York Sunday.

He stepped from the cruiser Helena at Pearl Harbor at 9:12 a. m. (2:12 p. m. Pottstown time) and with close advisers rode through Honolulu for an ovation from cheering crowds along the parade route, estimated by Naval authorities at 100,000.

The arrival ended nine fateful days in the making of future American history—three of them spent in studying the Korean situation and the rest in conferences which fixed the board outlines of Far East policy for the new Republican administration.

Eisenhower was taken to the Marine Corps air station at Kaneohe, on the windward side of Oahu island opposite Honolulu. There he will make his headquarters for two days.

Eisenhower indicated he intends to spend as much time on the golf course in those two days as he does in winding up the tag ends of his talks with advisers and future cabinet members.

Lots of Questions

—Mercury Staff Photo

"Let's see now, is that good enough for Junior? . . . Or is there some way he'll break it right away? . . . And just what do they mean by 'climbing tractor'?" Whatever this woman shopper may be thinking on her serious minded search for toys, she'll have something to smile about when she sees her photo. For the ring around it means that she will get an extra $2.50 for Christmas shopping simply by stopping at The Mercury office and identifying herself. This photo was snapped by a Mercury photographer in a mid-borough store. Six days a week until Christmas, there'll be another "ringed" shopper. You may be next. So keep watching The Mercury. The $2.50 is awarded daily by the Mercantile bureau.

Trip to See Santa Claus Pays Off For New Lucky Shopper's Children

A trip to see Pottstown's Santa Claus paid off 13 days early for the four children of Mrs. Marvin Stauffer, Boyertown RD 2, near Pine Forge, the latest "ringed" shopper to collect $2.50.

Mrs. Stauffer brought the children to see Santa in the New York store. The children are David Carl, 7; Ida Mae, 5; Donna Marie, 4, and Marvin Jr., 3.

While she was there, Mrs. Stauffer—was—photographed by The Mercury photographer who is in Pottstown's business section daily, taking photographs of lucky shoppers.

When she came to The Mercury office and collected the $2.50 yesterday, she reported that she will use the money to get more presents for her children. She added it was the first time she'd won anything.

The Stauffers are a hard-working family. The husband, an Army veteran who operates a bulldozer for Paul Buckwalter, didn't let a lack of previous building experience keep him from doing virtually all the work in building their new home, which has six rooms and bath.

Third Regional WSB Men to Stay at Posts

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—The industry members of the third regional Wage Stabilization board today voted unanimously to remain on their jobs here.

The third regional board has jurisdiction over Pennsylvania, Delaware, and the counties of Atlantic, Camden, Cumberland, Cape May, Gloucester and Salem in New Jersey.

The action of the board in deciding to remain on the WSB job was announced by Dr. John Perry Horlacher, chairman of the Philadelphia group.

Atom Weapons Included In Revised Program

PARIS, Dec. 11 (AP)—The military leaders of the Atlantic alliance said tonight they had agreed upon the use of atomic weapons in a revised strategic plan for the defense of Europe. The plan also included:

The possible use of West German and Yugoslav armed forces.

A new Naval command in the Mediterranean.

Soap Industry Hit by Anti-Trust Suit

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 11 (AP)—The soap market and about 90 percent of the relatively newer detergent business.

"If competition is to be restored to this industry, the defendants' power over the market must be eliminated," Attorney General McGranery said in announcing the suits in Washington Federal district court here, where the complaint was filed, was asked to break up the three companies "into separate independent organizations."

Procter and Gamble company, Cincinnati, O.; Colgate-Palmolive Peet company, Jersey City; and Lever Brothers company, New York, were accused of cornering at least 75 percent of the household

Fervent Plea to Kill Race Segregation In Schools Ends 3-Day Arguments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A fervent plea to erase racial segregation in public schools on grounds it "brands Negro citizens with inequality" brought to an end today three days of momentous arguments before the Supreme court.

Now it is up to the high tribunal to decide, probably after weeks of pondering, whether separate schools for white and Negro children violate constitutional guarantees of equal treatment for all persons. School systems in 21 states and the District of Columbia are involved.

The arguments themselves wound up with dramatic, conflicting bids to the highest tribunal both to uphold and to rule out segregation in the national capital and in the state of Delaware.

James M. Nabrit Jr., a Negro attorney educated in Washington's public, segregated schools, told the court:

"When liberty is interfered with by the State, it has to be justified. We submit that in the capital of the nation, in the capital of the free world, there is no place for

Legion Auxiliary Climbs to 173, Expects to Reach Year's 192 Quota

Six new members were enrolled by the Charles B. Yerger Post 471, American Legion Ladies' auxiliary at its meeting held in the new legion home.

This brought the membership of the auxiliary to 173. The new members enrolled were Mrs. Forrest Heydt, Mrs. LeRoy Herb, Mrs. Clarence Stoudt, Betty Reppert, Mrs. Ralph Snyder and Mrs. Agnes Sherry.

It was pointed out that the auxiliary is expecting to reach its membership quota of 192 members by the first of the year. The quota is established by a certain percentage of the post's membership.

The members voted to send a Christmas gift to the group's adopted orphan, Joseph Murphy at the Scotland school for veteran's children. The auxiliary has been sending Murphy gifts for the past seven years. Next June it will have to select another orphan since he will be graduating from the school.

On Monday night, the auxiliary enjoyed its annual Christmas party attended by 43 persons.

Aeronautics Director Honors 50th Year of Planes' Power Flight

John W. MacFarlan, director of aeronautics of Pennsylvania, spoke last night on the 50th anniversary celebration which begins this month commemorating the first power flight of an aircraft.

MacFarlan was the guest speaker at the joint meeting of the Pilot Club of Pottstown and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots association at Lakeside Inn, Limerick. He substituted for Max Karant, assistant general manager and editorial director of National Aviation Owners and Pilots association, who could not make the meeting because of unfavorable light conditions.

The guest speaker said the celebration begins Wednesday and will be continued for a full year.

Barton Whitman, chairman of AO and P for Pottstown and vicinity, named the following men to serve on the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the club's election Jan. 29: William J. Weiss, chairman; James J. Moore; Joseph Toth; John Tyson, and W. E. Wells.

The club announced its monthly breakfast flight will be to Allentown, Sunday. The pilots will eat at the Pilot club in the Allentown airport at noon.

Your Car Won't Be Snowbound When You Install Easy-to-Lift

OVERHEAD GARAGE DOORS

Remember the last snowstorm, and all the huffing and puffing it took to get your car out? It needn't happen again: these overhead doors lift at the touch of a finger and slide down with the same ease. You can get into and out of your garage at all times.

When you see these doors you'll wonder how such an attractive and sturdy assembly can be so low in price. Hardware and easy-to-follow instructions for hanging are included.

Obituaries

HASTINGS B. ZIEGLER, husband of Elizabeth (Kraft) Ziegler, CENTENNIAL STREET, SCHWENKSVILLE, died early yesterday morning in Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia. He was 59.

Mr. Ziegler had been the owner of a meat business in the Reading Terminal building, Philadelphia, since 1942.

He had previously been a partner in the business with his late brother, Harrison B. Ziegler, for more than 20 years.

The business had been established by the brothers' father, William E. Ziegler, in 1899.

Mr. Ziegler was a charter member of the Central Perkomen Rotary club, a member of Washington Camp 387, Patriotic Order of Sons of America; and a member of Jerusalem Lutheran church, Schwenksville.

Surviving are his wife; his father, William; and a sister, Mrs. Mae Hartendauer; all of Schwenksville. The men allegedly used a flashlight at night to hunt deer.

Funeral services will be held from Jerusalem Lutheran church, Schwenksville, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. William C. Leopold, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Schwenksville cemetery.

Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding, Feted by Son at Anniversary Dinner

Another Twin-Borough couple joined the 50-year-married group yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. William S. Knerr, 160 Walnut street, Spring City, observed their Golden wedding anniversary.

They passed the day quietly and chatted with a dinner last night as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Knerr, next door at 158 Walnut street.

Knerr and his wife, were married Dec. 11, 1902, at 6 p. m., in the parsonage of Parkerford Baptist church by the Rev. William T. Johnson. The pastor's wife served as witness.

They set up housekeeping in Parkerford, where they lived until they moved to the Spring City address 28 years ago.

A teamster when he was married, Knerr was later employed by Pennsylvania Railroad. He served as a foreman for 31 years until his retirement in 1947.

HE DID not remain retired. Imbued with a desire to remain active, he accepted a position with the State Highway department. He is still employed. The couple is still affiliated with the church where they were married.

Knerr, 70, was born in Greenwich, Berks county. He came to Parkerford with his folks when he was six years old. He is a member of Liberty Fire company, Spring City.

Mrs. Knerr, 72, was born in Fish-

Car Skids on Wet Road And Crashes Into Pole

A 1952 coupe driven by Edward Koneski, 440 Walnut street, Royersford, was damaged yesterday morning, about 4 o'clock, when it skidded on a wet highway and crashed into a pole at Gratersford. According to police Chief Theodore Berry, Schwenksville, Koneski was going south on Route 29. As he was driving over a grade crossing, the car skidded into the pole and severed it near the bottom. Damage to the car was estimated at $300. It was towed to a Pottstown auto refinishing company. A new pole was installed yesterday.

Local Church to Add 50 Foot Extension To Present Building

The congregation of the Church of the Nazarene, Royersford, voted to build a $35,000 extension to the present church building at a recent meeting.

The pastor, the Rev. R. E. Zollinhofer, conducted the meeting, explained the blue prints, advised of fund raising methods and passed ballots to the congregation. There was one dissenting vote.

According to the pastor, the extension will be 35 by 50 feet and will house 12 classrooms. It will provide for an additional seating capacity of 60.

The Rev. Zollinhofer came to Royersford the past August. Since his coming there has been a marked increase in attendance in church departments. The Sunday school has increased 20 percent.

At a previous congregational meeting, the church extended a unanimous recall to Pastor Zollinhofer for three years. He accepted the call and pledged his best in service to the work of the church.

Royersford Stages Annual Tree Lighting

The fifth annual Community Christmas tree lighting in Royersford has been planned for Monday night at 7 o'clock, on the lawn of Capt. Harris Buckwalter American Legion posthouse.

Santa Claus will distribute gifts to children in the newly renovated recreation hall of the post house after a special program.

Welcome will be extended by Burgess Ralph H. Landes, followed in prayer by the Rev. Fred G. Bangs, Baptist pastor.

Group carol singing will be led by Howard Frith. Royersford High school band, directed by Miss Alice Schimpf will play the accompaniment, and Miss Janes Mowrey will have a vocal solo.

Harvey Undercoffler will have charge of erecting the tree, which was donated by Mrs. Marion Hiltel, Spring City.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Carl Straub, Miss Mary Benner Mrs. Louis Vining, Mrs. Charles Kryder, Mrs. E. Earl Nelson, Mrs. Earl Schell, Tony Frisoli and George Major.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

Funeral services for RONALD C. DONOHUE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Donohue, 525 HECKLE AVENUE, SPRING CITY, were conducted in a funeral home at 331 New street at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Ralph L. Alderfer, pastor of Spring City Lutheran church.

Interment was made in Vincent Mennonite cemetery. Bearers were Gerald Collopy, Russell Eckenrode, Robert Sprout, Donald Grubb, John Smoyer and Robert Mooney.

Kimberton grange 1304 met Tuesday night with Worthy Master, Paul Hughes, presiding. During the business meeting, it was decided to install a new oil-fired hot air heating system and the contract was awarded to Staats Oil company.

Work will start in a few weeks.

It also was decided to have the Christmas party Dec. 23 and to distribute gifts to all present. Juvenile and Adult grange will meet together.

During the past year, Juvenile grange had eight of its members present every meeting night. Those eight were as follows: Carol Mulchome, Elaine Mulchome, Barbara Sandra, and Judy, Supiot, Earl Hartman, Donald Miller and Harry Yeager.

The girls received bracelets and the boys, tie bars.

Their Juvenile Matron, Mrs. Gladys Scheib, also presented them with gifts: jewelry boxes for the girls and fountain pens for the boys. Margaret Kulp presented colored slides on their recent trip around the point of Gaste in New Bruns- wick and some of historic Valley Forge. They were enjoyed by all. Refreshments of donuts and coffee were served by the committee.

Musmanno Answers Bar Group's Charges

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Allegheny county Bar association rapped a Pennsylvania Supreme Court justice on the knuckles today and promptly got back a blistering reply.

Criticized was Justice Michael A. Musmanno of Pittsburgh. The Bar association didn't like the way he campaigned for the Lieutenant Governorship while remaining a Judge on the county bench. He since won election to the state's highest court.

The association adopted a report which said Musmanno violated canon 28, which forbids political activities by judges, and added the laden act. He promised a fuller group "deprecated his continued conduct."

Musmanno termed the report outrageous and said it was "a hate-act." He promised a fuller reply he "will show the unfairness and injustice, as well as the cowardice, of the clique that did this deed."

WSCSers Pin Symbolic Stars to Yule Tree

"Shining as Stars Forever" was the theme of the Christmas meeting of the First Methodist WSCS last night in the church.

Each member pinned a star to a Christmas tree, the ornaments representing women who have been of outstanding service to mankind from Biblical days to the present.

Mrs. Russell Ober accompanied the group's carolling and the solo sung by Mrs. Edward Graham, program chairman.

Gifts were exchanged at a red and green clothed table decorated with silver balls, red tapers and choir boy candles.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Fred Yerger was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Douglas Hale showed a shut-in's Christmas cheer box, and members turned in their bags of gifts for patients at Philadelphia General hospital.

Hostesses at the meeting were: Mrs. Frank Feidts, Mrs. Harry

Emmanuel Brownie Troop Invests 2 New Members

Suzanne Jordan and Valerie Richards were invested into Emmanuel Lutheran Brownie troop 11 at Wednesday's meeting in the church.

Patriotic songs opened the flag ceremony. Judith Bickel and Mary Dolas were color bearers; color guards were Judith Bartman and Phyllis Coveley.

The Brownies made plans for their Christmas party to be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the church. Parents have been invited.

North Coventry WCTU Favors Soapy Christmas

North Coventry WCTU members will meet from 2 to 4 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Long, Parkerford.

Members will fill washcloths with soap to form round Christmas tree ornaments, which the group will bring to the Valley Forge Military hospital.

Walter-Smith Nuptials Recited

At a double ring ceremony Saturday, Laura H. Walter, Red Hill, became the bride of Robert K. Smith, East Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. Walter, Red Hill, are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, East Greenville.

St. Paul's church was the setting for the service, read by the Rev. H. H. Krauss, pastor.

Her father escorted the bride to the altar.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles E. Zepp, a sister of the bride. Charles Gary, East Greenville, was best man.

Martha Sharp, a cousin of the bride, was soloist. She sang the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by the church organist, Warren E. Wetzel.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the Green Lane firehouse.

The groom, who is serving in the Army, was home on furlough.

Cheer Boxes, Carol Serenading Projects Of Christmas for Grace's Young Women

The Young Women of Grace's party activities centered around a Christmas tree.

Under the tree were piled gifts which the women exchanged at their Wednesday night party in Grace Lutheran church.

Two Yule projects have been planned by the group. After meeting at 7 p. m., Dec. 23, in the church, they will go to sing carols at the two hospitals.

Other shut-ins, members of the church, will be exposed to the group's Noel spirit in the form of 'cheer boxes' which the women will pack for delivery.

Christmas card puzzles, a memory and racing games were played. Mrs. Richard Moyer will entertain the group in her Kenilworth home Jan. 14 at 8:15 p. m.

Present were: Mrs. William Wilde, Mrs. Robert Rhoads, Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Mrs. Gordon Hafer, Mrs. John Jacob, Mrs. Edgar Brown, Mrs. Richard Christ, Mrs. John Lozenski and Mrs. Robert Lozenski.

Mrs. Albert Jacob, Mrs. Furman Jones, Mrs. Clifford Levengood, Mrs. Richard Moyer, Mrs. Robert Renninger, Mrs. William Ketter, Mrs. Kenneth Jacob, Mrs. William Yoder and Mrs. Hathaway Geyer.

Mrs. Samuel Slean, Mrs. David Erb, Mrs. Harold Sloan, Mrs. Harry Nagengast, Joyce Herlinger, Mildred Geist and Mrs. Paul Betz.

Piano Students Set Christmas Recital Sunday Afternoon

Piano pupils of Edith Emerick Strouse will be presented in a pre-Christmas recital at 1:30 p. m. Sunday in Christ Episcopal church.

Opening the program will be a tableau entitled "The First Christmas," with class members posing as the participants at the Nativity.

During the tableau, the studio chorus will sing Christmas carols. Next, a play will be staged. Its title is "A Carol for Santa."

Completing the program will be several piano solos and a pair of piano duets which will feature both classical and modern compositions.

Invitations have been issued to the pupils' parents and friends, and the recital is open to the public.

Social Calendar

Mother's class of First Methodist church—Christmas party at 8 p. m. in home of Mrs. Nelson McCullough, 947 Queen street.

Doe Club Moves Top Three Officers Up One Notch

New Doe club officers came into a Christmas-decked world last night.

Silver-bowed windows, ornamented trees, sleigh and reindeer on the tables gave a holiday spirit to the election of officers for the 1953 year.

The three top officers, president, first and second vice presidents, stayed in the posts which they have been filling since the former president resigned her office this past January.

Voters decided the re-elections of treasurer and recording secretary, only the post of corresponding secretary is filled by a new Doe.

The official slate reads as follows: Mrs. Lowell Kratz, president; Mrs. Wilfred Pickar, first vice president; and Mrs. Marvin Linderman, second vice president.

Mrs. George Kulp, treasurer; Mrs. Melrose Weidensaul, recording secretary; and Mrs. Robert Raugh Jr., corresponding secretary.

BIRTHS

In Community General hospital, Reading, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Cleon A. Coldren, Birdsboro RD 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ammon, Collegeville RD 2, are the parents of a daughter born in Montgomery hospital, Norristown.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Pottstown RD 1 yesterday in Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stuflet, 461 North Franklin street, announce the birth of a daughter in Pottstown hospital Wednesday.

Yesterday in Pottstown hospital, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Hare, Boyertown RD 1.

Totaling up the votes of nearly 75 members present were tellers Mrs. Samuel Garber and Mrs. Darryl Massey.

Formal introduction of the officers will be made at a Christmas dinner-dance, Dec. 21.

Ways and means chairman Mrs. Marvin Linderman is in charge of the affair for which The Sharks will play music.

A Yuletide theme will run through the children's party on the following afternoon, Dec. 22. For sub-teenagers of Elks and Does, the party will begin at 2 o'clock.

Three vaudeville acts including a puppet show will be featured on the program, reported Mrs. Emil St. Onge.

Mrs. St. Onge, in her office as program chairman, took over after the business meeting to start group singing of carols.

Ethel DeWitt accompanied on the piano and Mrs. Lowell Kratz led the women seated at 'T' formation tables.

Watermelon ice cream, pink and green with black nut seeds, was served by Mrs. Kenneth Fryer and her committee.

Next time you make doughnuts, add a half-cup of finely chopped pecans or the grated rind of an orange to the batter. Or if your family likes their crullers spicy, sift a teaspoon of cinnamon into the dry ingredients.

Lady Reindeer Drape President's Antlers On Nancy Reitnour's Brow at Yule Dinner

The Lady Reindeer club's Christmas dinner preceded election of officers Thursday night in the IO of A building.

Results of the election are as follows: junior post president, Viola Arch; president, Nancy Reitnour; vice president, Bertie Krammes; invocator, Marguerite Bartholomew; warden, Elizabeth Rider; piano and degree captain, Dorothy Law; recording secretary, Eleanor Koval.

Financial secretary, Jessie Clouser; treasurer, Augustus Kelly; inner guard, Freda Steeley; and outer guard, Florence Reitnour.

Trustees, Margaret Seiler, Lettie Mae Noecker and Margaret Noecker. Auditing committee includes Elsie Beekley, Larena Smith and Edith Flanagan.

Initiation of candidates for the color drill team was held. Two new members are Grace Trolling and Eva Fizz.

A pie and cake will be held Friday at 9 a. m. The 'pigs,' donated by Lillian Ginder, Viola Arch, Jessie Clouser and Dorothy Law, were won by Edith Flanagan, Helen Hohl, Mabel Shaw and Veronica Bauer.

Jessie Clouser and Bertie Krammes donated the specials which were won by Kathryn Sellers and Elizabeth Reider.

The next degree meeting will be held Dec. 30 at the home of Margaret Noecker, 545 Willow street.

Newcomers Pantomime Carols at Yule Charades

Charades broke the ice Wednesday night in the YWCA. Newcomers divided into 6 groups to pantomime Christmas carols. Hardest-to-guess was "Little Town of Bethlehem."

After acting out the songs, members sang them under the direction of Bob Allen. Gifts were exchanged and food stuffs donated to fill baskets for welfare families.

New classes in art, sewing and bridge will begin near the first of the year, announced Mrs. William Leiser, chairman of ways and means.

Instruction in art will be offered Mondays from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m., beginning Jan. 12; and Wednesdays

From 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock beginning Jan. 14.

Sewing will be Tuesdays from 2 to 4 o'clock, starting Jan. 11, and Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p. m., starting Jan. 13.

There are places for both beginners and advanced pupils. For those who sewed or painted with the grownups during the Fall, further instructions will be given so they may continue to progress.

Though no definite opening date has been set for bridge lessons, they will be held Tuesday nights from 8 to 10.

Registration may be made at the YWCA office.

Children of newcomers will have a Christmas party Saturday in the Y at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Laverne Diebel led the 70 members present in prayer.

Welcomed for the first time to the club were newcomers: Mrs. Carl Biers from Easton, Pa.; Mrs. James Massey from Milford, Del.; Smith from Fairfax, Virginia.

Mrs. Frank Anhalt from Stone Harbor, N.J.; and Mrs. William Ritner from Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. George Lieberman from Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Samuel p. m., Jan. 14.

Interior decoration will be the topic at next month's meeting in the Y.

Emily Kappes will speak at 8 p. m., Jan. 14.

Florence H. Saltzer Chooses Grey Taffeta For Methodist Marriage to David Bishop

A simple ceremony performed by the Rev. Martin J. Brinton, pastor of First Methodist church, in his parsonage united two Pottstowners Wednesday night.

Florence H. Saltzer, 449 High street, chose a slate grey taffeta dress for her marriage to David Bishop, 151 High street.

Rhinestones sparkled at her throat and ears. Their glitter was repeated in a pin on her white hat.

Her red rose corsage accented the grey of her street-length frock.

After the single ring rites, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. David Richards and Mr. and Mrs. John Ewanick dined at Howard Johnson's.

It was fitting that the Ewanicks were present at the wedding supper. There they were able to see the result of their cupid-playing efforts.

Mrs. Ewanick had introduced the two to a party in her apartment and, she said, "It was love at first sight!"

An employee of Concrete Products company, the groom and his bride plan to live in his High street home.

Pine Swamp YLB Class Holds Christmas Party

Red and green Christmas colors decorated Virginia Painter's home when she entertained fellow women of Pine Swamp church Bible class.

Gifts were exchanged and secret pals revealed among the Elverson members.

A quilt and canned goods have been donated to the Evangelical home, Myerstown and a CARE package will be sent to Europe.

Helen Yelk read the scripture; Thelma Kirkner led prayer.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Myrtle Syer.

Present were: Sara Horner, Alice Yelk, Maggie Handwork, Marie Yeager, Myrtle Syer, Betty Kulp and Ann Care.

Here is a good after-school snack for the younger set. Let them spread slices of red delicious apples with peanut butter.

YWCA Entertains 200 at Annual Noel Party

Boughs of pine and red candles decked the gymnasium last night where the YWCA was hostess to more than 200 guests at the annual Christmas party.

President Mrs. George M. Weber, wearing a blue dress with black and rhinestone accents and a small black hat acted as mistress of ceremonies.

She introduced Mrs. George A. Kercher, who read a Christmas prayer and told the Christmas story from the Book of Luke.

"O Holy Night" and a group of Yule folk songs were sung by the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

Tuesday afternoon Pigtails staged a playlet under the direction of Charlotte Anderson, while more Pigtails sang a program of Christmas carols.

Etta Calloway led the young chorus and Phyllis Edgecomb accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Alex Tisdale, YWCA executive director, wore a two-piece crepe jacket dress of navy to greet guests at the door. Her frock was trimmed in dusty pink and featured a beaded neckline.

Three former board presidents presided at the coffee and punch tables.

Mrs. Robert G. Weller poured wearing a black gown with a modified V neckline, set off with a silver brooch. Sparkle buttons set off her cuffed, three quarter sleeves.

Past president Florence E.

Decker wore a long sleeved frock of bronzed green featuring a rolled collar and wide cuffs, with black hat, belt and shoes.

To ladle cranberry punch, Helen Purnell was attired in a knit dress of deep blue, with a round, black high neckline, black cuffs and belt. She wore a molded red hat with a sequined black side-piece and a single strand of pearls.

Board members serving as the hospitality committee were Mrs. Raymond Detterer, chairman, Mrs. Richard P. Stamm, co-chairman, Mrs. Harold H. Wentzel, Mrs. Howard I. G.

Stauffer, Mrs. Calvin Cressman and Mrs. Harry A. Lord.

In keeping with the holidays, Mrs. Lord tied sleigh-red scarves at throat and waist of her holly-green silk shantung gown and clipped tiny pinecones to her ear.

Mrs. Stamm wore brown wool, her frock buttoning down the front. Her felt hat was white with an orange band of crushed jersey. White cuffs turned back at her wrists.

Gray was chosen for Mrs.

Stauffer's gown, trimmed with black velvet buttons and belt.

Mrs. Detterer passed cookies in a gray frock and white hat, a touch of white at her neckline and wrists.

Mrs. Cressman was attired in a black frock with a V neckline.

On display during the party were original paintings, trays, neckties and clothing completed by members of the Y-sponsored art and sewing classes.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

Color is the main feature of this home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob D. McCullough at 245 West King street. The home was built in 1942 by an Ardmore contractor, with McCullough making changes of his own in the basic plans. Mrs. McCullough has made some changes since, now having some of the first venetian blinds in Pottstown that have slats of four different pastel colors in each blind. The awnings are ivory and green, as is the outside woodwork and the big metal awning over the patio behind the house. The second-story porch is above a carefully-disguised garage. Also downstairs are a dining room and kitchen. Upstairs are two bedrooms and bath. The basement has a tile floor. The railed front porch downstairs was added the past Spring, with the cement painted a glossy black and red. McCullough is a diemaker for Doehler-Jarvis corporation. That's Mrs. McCullough out front.

QUICK CAKE FROSTING

Delicious and quickly-prepared frosting: Melt a package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces and blend in a half cup of commercially-prepared sour cream. This will cover the top and sides of a nine-inch cake. It's particularly good over a cake made from one of the new packages of yellow cake mix. The frosting will be soft enough when you put it on the cake but after it stands awhile it will get firm enough to cut nicely.

Pottstown Plays at Lancaster

Two undefeated teams will be matched tonight when Pottstown High plays at McCaskey High school in Lancaster.

The Trojans have a 3-0 record as compared to their hosts single victory and no losses. It will be Pottstown's second road trip and Coach Ed Good would welcome a repetition of the first away victory at Doylestown the past Tuesday night.

With the season now almost two weeks old the Trojans have displayed a knack of winning their games with fourth quarter rallies. In all three games they have appeared only mediocre, but victories won by margins of 14, 18 and 21 points certainly carry some weight.

The average McCaskey team has not given Pottstown too much trouble in the past 10 years, but with an enrolment more than double that of Pottstown high's, a sleeper can always be expected.

Untested Colonels Open Cage Season Against Bridgeport

Collegeville High will floor two stubby lettermen and three unpolished Juniors rubbing the six-foot mark this evening when it opens its 1952-53 cage wars at Bridgeport against the host Dragons.

The returnees expected to open this evening are Junior Fran McManus and Soph Gerry Hefelfinger — both of whom stand around 5-8.

With that pair will be Carl Weigner, at center, and guards Bernie Didden and Al Fenstermacher. Didden is the tallest of the group, standing an even 6-0, while the other two hit 5-11. None of the trio has played much, if any, varsity ball before and tonight's tilt will largely be a tryout for them.

Jim Hefelfinger, another shortie and the only Senior on the squad, won't play tonight due to previous thespian commitments. Jimmy is in the Senior class playing being held at the C-T school and consequently will miss out at starting in a regular forward berth.

BRIDGEPORT opened its season rather ingloriously the past Tuesday evening, bowing, 63-30, to strong Norristown, and will be bucking a one-year jinx in the Cols tonight.

Collegeville downed the burned out Dragons in its opener the past year and went on to lose every other game. Bridgeport will have two shots this year, though, visiting the C-T court on next Tuesday evening for a return engagement before Collegeville takes up Perkiomen-Schuylkill league battle next Friday evening with Schwenksville.

These two Porter tiffs are the only non-league affairs of the season for Bob Hackman's minions.

Coast Asks Big 10 To Renew Bowl Pact

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP) — The Pacific Coast conference today voted to invite the Big Ten conference to renew their Rose Bowl pact for three years when the present contract expires Jan. 1, 1954.

The Coast faculty representatives stressed the point that the invitation will not be extended in the event there is any anti-bowl legislation enacted at the NCAA convention in Washington, D.C., early next month.

The NCAA convention will receive a report at that time from its extra-events committee, which is headed by Wilbur Jones of UCLA. The nature of the report on bowl games has not been disclosed, but there are indications that it will continue the go signal for the major post-season games in the nation.

Warriors Buy Knicks' Polsen

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball association have purchased Ralph Polsen, six foot-eight-inch center, from the New York Knickerbockers, manager Eddie Gottlieb announced tonight.

Gottlieb said the Warriors sold center Ed Mikal to the Indianapolis Olympians.

Polson, who played college basketball for Whitworth college in Seattle, Wash., was expected to report in time for tonight's game with the Rochester Royals.

The 22-year-old Riverside, Calif., youth was the third highest scorer in the country last year.

Ed Hynes, Brandeis university halfback, spends his Summers working as a starter in a bus terminal in New York City.

Haney Accepts One-Year Contract To Manage Last-Place Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP) — Fred Haney, who won two pennants in four years as skipper of the high-flying Pacific Coast league Hollywood Stars, took on the biggest managerial headache of his baseball career today—pulling the luckless Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National league cellar.

Haney signed a one-year contract as Pirate manager to succeed Billy Meyer who resigned after the 1952 campaign. Meyer, bothered by stomach trouble, said he couldn't take another tough season at the helm of the rookie-dotted Bucs.

Neither the Pirates nor Haney disclosed how much money the new 54-year-old manager will draw for his second whirl in the major league field general department in 11 years. Haney became manager of the St. Louis Browns in 1939, remaining until June 4, 1951, when he was succeeded by Luke Sewell.

Signing of Haney surprised no one. But his one-year contract surprised everybody. There had been considerable conjecture that Haney wanted more than a one-year pact, the kind general manager Branch Rickey prefers to dish out. But Haney flew here from the Coast, talked a while with Rickey and the agreement was sealed.

Haney said he signed because Rickey wanted him to. The genial Dutch-firshman said he felt obligated to Rickey for helping his Hollywood club. In Hollywood, executive vice president Robert H.

Phils Thank Kobs

Robin Roberts, ace righthander for the Philadelphia Phillies, was a first baseman at Michigan State until changed to a pitcher by coach John Kobs.

Sundstrom turned an ankle in practice and may see only limited action. Milt Wensel reported for practice on crutches yesterday afternoon; but believes his leg will be sufficiently healed to start drilling again next week.

COACH BILL McCABE and his javees will be shooting for their third win tonight. After losing to Abington last Friday night, they followed the varsity's pattern of winning in the last period against Central Bucks.

McCabe's probable starting lineup will be Merrill Shirey and either Bob Gray or Carl Sundstrom at the forwards, Al Bodulus at center, and Josh Sova and Red Rhoads in the backcourt.

Both Haney and Rickey said they had discussed several player trades and the coaching situation but only lightly.

Rickey confirmed he has had several serious player trade deals in the fire and added: "There's nobody on the club I won't trade. But there are several players on the team I don't want to trade."

Boyertown Bears Take Things Easy Tonight in "Breather" Tiff Faculty

Boyertown High takes on a "breather" tilt tonight that will likely have the Bears' forces panting like horses before its finish.

It's the annual Faculty game in the BHS gym, matching the current edition of scholastics against their weekday tutors.

The high schoolers, winners of two straight without setback, will be separated from their coach when Herb Hartman switches allegiance to the teaching clan. Captain Darv Schanley will be in command in Hartman's stead.

With Hartman on the Faculty five will be jayvee mentor Hal Marks, Joe High, Ken Widdall, Warren Fry, Bob Fleming, Dick Grabard, Abe Savage and Ed Stuart.

Some of them played a good deal of college ball, but hardly any have played any appreciable de-agree since, and for their one big game a year, they are grandly out of shape.

They'll have the edge in experience, however, and many a teacher team has whipped together an upset on that argument.

Randy Stauffer, Rod Bender, Harry Tim and Gerry Grim will start with Schanley, as per usual, for the Bear regulars.

Three Crowns bounced back last night with a 47-41 victory over Coffee Cup in its second, City Basketball league, start. URW moved into a three-way for first place with an easy 68-39 win over Van's Dukes in the opening game of the doubleheader.

The Workers started slowly but picked up momentum in the second quarter to take a 31-24 half-time lead. The taller URW players consistently controlled the boards against the Dukes and piled up a bigger lead in the third period.

Four of the winners hit for double figures. Bill Bayer's seven and two gave him the top total of 16 points. Jack Kurtz

Promoter Claims Sugar Ray Will Fight

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP) — British Promoter Jack Solomons kept the middleweight controversy going today by declaring that Sugar Ray Robinson had "definitely agreed" to defend his world middleweight crown against Randy Turpin on June 9 in either London or Dublin.

And to back up his statement, Solomons turned over to the British boxing board of control the signed contracts of Turpin and his manager, and a bunch of cablegrams from George Gaimford, Robinson's manager.

That constitutes a binding agreement, said Ted Waltham, secretary of the BBBC. Onslow Fane, chairman of the BBBC, said that should be enough to convince the New York State Athletic commission that Robinson "intended to defend his title against Turpin."

In New York, however, Chairman Bob Christenberry of the State Athletic commission, said he wasn't impressed.

"I DON'T THINK we can wait until June," he said. "Robinson has been given enough consideration. If he fights in June it will be much more than a year between title defenses."

The New York commission vacated Robinson's title in the State last week, subject to review on Dec. 19. The American National Boxing association, which granted Robinson more time, still recognizes Robinson as champion.

Writers Rank Mississippi Top Surprise Grid Team

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—The football season couldn't see the 1952 football season started, conceded today that an undefeated season, a Sugar Bowl invitation and the biggest upset of the season had made Ole Miss the surprise team of the year.

In picking the order of finish in the Southeastern conference before the season started, the experts rightly gave Georgia Tech the call. And they weren't overly surprised when Tech finished with eleven straight victories.

But Ole Miss wasn't figured to do much and its rating didn't improve when it played the games with Kentucky and Vanderbilt, neither of which was highly rated.

Then the Rebels, improving from week to week, began to roll. They beat Tulane, Arkansas, Louisiana State and Houston by convincing margins then topped it off with a 21-14 triumph over highly rated Maryland. That victory was tabbed as the season's biggest upset by the sports writers and broadcasters replying to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire. Today the same group designated Mississippi as the most surprising team.

Ole Miss finished the season with eight victories and two ties and will meet Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1. That was enough to satisfy 27 of the experts who participated in the balloting. Twenty-two chose Pittsburgh; 18 Yale and 16 Notre Dame.

Pitt was a surprise two ways. Coach Red Dawson's Panthers, after absorbing a beating from Oklahoma, bounced back to beat Notre Dame, 22-19, and Army, 22-14. Then they were the victims of a 16-0 upset at the hands of West Virginia. The final count was six victories and three defeats.

The Notre Dame team, short of manpower in Coach Frank Leahy's preseason analysis, was tied by Pennsylvania and beaten by Pitt in its first three games. After that the Irish lost only to national champion Michigan State, mentioning the champions of four major conferences among its seven victims.

TITLE BOUT SCHEDULED

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will defend his title against Jersey Joe Walcott in late March or early April, promoter Jim Norris said today.

The president of the International Boxing club said five cities are being considered for the return bout and that a decision on the site would be made within a week. He said the places under consideration are New York, Chicago, Miami, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Norris who is in Chicago advised his office by long distance telephone that he had met today with Al Weill, who had agreed to the early date for the return bout. Weill, former matchmaker for Norris, manages Marciano.

Suspension Ruins DeSpirito's Chances

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—Tropical Park's racing stewards blasted Tony DeSpirito's hopes for a new American winning record today by suspending the leading jockey for ten days, and will decide tomorrow whether to extend the suspension for another faulty ride in today's sixth race.

The 17-year-old apprentice jockey was grounded until Christmas eve for allowing his mount to interfere with another horse in yesterday's fourth race. That virtually wiped out his chances of breaking the record of 388 winners in a year.

DeSpirito was allowed to ride out his mounts today. Three hours after the suspension was announced, he was disqualified in the sixth race for allowing his horse, Nightman, to interfere with Dom W., ridden by Freddie Ryan.

It was Ryan who lodged a claim of foul against DeSpirito Wednesday, which brought about his suspension. DeSpirito has ridden 370 winners this year.

Stewards will decide tomorrow whether to give him another suspension.

If the suspension is not lengthened by the stewards tomorrow, DeSpirito will be eligible to ride again on his 18th birthday, Christmas eve. He will have only seven racing days left at Tropical Park.

Eagles Tackle To Miss 'Must' Game Sunday

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles will be without their regular right tackle Sunday in the Birds' "must" game against the Washington Redskins.

Lum Snyder, the huge tackle from Georgia Tech is sidelined with torn ligaments in his left knee. Snyder was injured in the Dallas game last Sunday. Dr. Thomas Dowd, team physician, told Coach Jim Trimble that Snyder might be able to play again if the Eagles get into a Dec. 21 playoff for the American Conference title with the Cleveland Browns.

The Eagles have to beat Washington Sunday and New York must defeat Cleveland to create a tie for first place. Trimble said Mike Jarmoluk would play in Snyder's position. Jarmoluk will play on both offense and defense.

F&M Diplomats Tounce Haverford

LANCASTER, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Lancaster and Marshall college Diplomats won their second game of the week tonight as they walked Haverford college 95-55 on the State Armory court.

F&M's Coach Woody Sponaugle, endeavoring to get a line on his club, used all his men against the Main Liners and played his starting team of Walter Lenz, Carl Yoder, Gus Lovett, Kenny Davis and Lee Pitcock less than half of the game. None saw action in the second half.

Lovett dropped in 23 points in the short period he was in the game, bringing his total to 97 for this year's four games. Ted Penick, Haverford's high scorer, had 13.

BOWIE, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—Bowie's final racing day set for next Monday will include a full program of eight races. The track was unable to run six of the eight races when it tried to open Nov. 17, but the Maryland Racing commission authorized a full card's replacement.

'Hungry' Paul Perez Can Gain Fame With Upset Over Unbeaten Saxton

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Paul Perez, another "hungry" fighter out to make a reputation and some money, hopes to provide Madison Square garden fight fans with another upset tomorrow night when he takes on undefeated Johnny Saxton in the main 10 rounder.

Last week Ralph (Tiger) Jones turned in the biggest surprise of the boxing season by whipping Johnny Bratton in a thriller. Jones was a 4 to 1 underdog and Perez will be at least that against the classy Brooklyn fighter.

A good boxer with a fast left hand, Perez hasn't been able to get much work here. Since coming to the U.S. in 1949 he's had 10 fights, winning seven. Bad hands had something to do with his infrequent appearances as well as managerial difficulties. Connie Nunan is his fourth manager. Perez, 26, has a 31-5-2 record.

He'll be up against a grimly determined fighter in the high-ranking Saxton. The 22-year-old Brooklynite not only will be striving for his 34th straight victory but he'll be seeking a flash and quick knockout to atone for two previous dull fights in the Garden and before television audiences.

Although Saxton wasn't blamed for the dull fights, he didn't help live up things by his inability to solve the other fighters quickly. "I've learned a lot since then," said Saxton. "I think now I can figure any fighter out. I want to make a good showing for the fans around the country. I hope Perez wants to do some punching."

Roy Bailey's 75 yard touchdown run against Vanderbilt was Tulane's longest scrimmage run since 1944.

Giants Can Cause Cleveland Misery With Win Sunday

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Cleveland's Browns better not look for a shoo-in when they take on New York's battered Giants in their regular National Football league windup here Sunday. The crippled Giants are out of the pennant race themselves but they're hoping to pitch a little surprise at the Browns.

The Browns are big favorites to whip Steve Owen's "beat up" forces and clinch the American conference title. All the Browns need is either a victory or a tie to win their seventh straight pennant. If they lose and the Philadelphia Eagles beat Washington Sunday, then the two clubs will have to meet in a play-off. Cleveland's record is 8-3 and Philadelphia's 7-4.

Typical of the Giants' attitude for the game, regarded as New York's "big" football game of the year, is Eddie Price's grim determination to play despite a badly bruised hip. The NFL's ground gaining champ was hurt in the 27-17 loss to Washington last week and the team doctor said he wouldn't be able to face the Browns.

But the tough Texan surprised everyone by turning up for practice yesterday. He wasn't able to move as fast as usual but he insisted that by Sunday he'll be ready.

THE TEAM'S two regular quarterbacks, Chucklin' Charley Conerly and Freddie Benner, were banged up in the 63-7 debacle at Pittsburgh two games ago and didn't play last week. Benner injured a knee and won't play against the Browns. Conerly, who had a twisted and badly bruised right shoulder, has come along and is expected to play at least part of the finale.

Meanwhile, Owen plans to use Tom Landry, normally the defensive ace, in the "T" quarterback spot again. Tom used to quarterback at Texas and has done better than fair as a passer.

The Giants beat Cleveland earlier in the season, 17-9, and Owen said today "we always play a pretty good game against the Browns."

NEW LEGISLATION ALLOWS EASIER FRANCHISE MOVES

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—All the talk about a possibility of shifting one of the major league baseball franchises to a new city is just talk to Commissioner Ford Frick, even though the majors passed legislation at their recent meetings which would make such a move easier.

Various reports have had Lou Perna, the Boston Braves owner, considering a shift to Milwaukee, where the Braves have a farm club, and Fred Saigh considering a shift of the St. Louis Cardinals to Houston.

Yesterday Joe King, New York World-Telegram and Sun baseball writer, quoted an informed source in Milwaukee as saying that Bill Veck had a "75-25 chance to open the season" with the St. Louis Browns in Milwaukee.

THE SAME SOURCE, admitting that Perini could block such a move, pointed out that Milwaukee fans hardly would support a minor league club which had blocked their chance to see major league baseball.

Art Ehlers Finds Gimmick in Bonus Rule

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—The new bonus rule has a "gimmick" favoring the rich clubs of baseball, says Arthur Ehlers, general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

"We (the A's) don't like the new rule, we voted against it and within two years I fully expect that owners will be asked to repeal it," says Ehlers.

The A's G.M. talked about the new bonus rule upon returning to his Shibe Park office from the baseball meetings at Phoenix, Ariz.

Ehlers said his suspicions of the new rule were aroused when he noticed the enthusiastic support of the rich clubs for the measure. "I couldn't understand that because the rule was aimed at them," Ehlers said.

"We gave it a lot of thought and study and I believe we've found the gimmick. It all hinges on who is to be the judge of the player in his first season. It's natural to assume that the club which signs him will be the judge and if that's right we have the gimmick."

EHLERS SAID the rule can be circumvented by signing a potential star to a non-bonus contract with an understanding that the player will come up to the parent major league club for his second year at a tremendous increase in salary.

Ehlers said he based this opinion on an interpretation of the bonus rule by baseball commissioner Ford Frick. Some weeks before the meetings in Phoenix, Frick said in explaining the then-proposed new rule:

"I should not become suspicious of a club as a possible violator of the rule if it signed a player below the bonus limit, kept him in the minors a year, then brought him up to the majors and paid him a good sized salary-providing he had made good in the minors."

"Who will judge the player?" asked Ehlers.

"Let me show you how this thing would work:"

"FOR INSTANCE, let's take the New York Yankees. Every club budgets how much it will spend for new talent and suppose the Yanks earmark $300,000 for that purpose.

"Now there's nothing in the rule to prevent the Yanks from giving $80,000 or even $100,000 as a bonus to one player. I hope they do that with several players and soon they'll run over the budget. If all the rich clubs did that, then the poorer clubs would still be able to sign some very good prospects."

"But," continued Ehlers, "I'm afraid the rich clubs will corner the market not only by signing players for the big bonus, but by salary increases for the second year."

Gilbertsville Tree Restored to Dignity After Tilt With Wind

It took a lot of heaving and grunting, but they restored the Gilbertsville Christmas tree to a place of dignity on the community green yesterday morning.

The heavy rains and strong winds ganged up on the lofty, proud pine, and drove it to an unbecoming place in the mud.

But at 8 a. m. the men who erected the tree on Monday morning restored it to full grace and beauty.

William G. Yoder, a member of the tree committee, explained, "We just stuck the tree in a hole in the ground and the rain made the earth soft and the force of the wind blowing against it sent it down in the mud. But we repaired things now. We placed guide wires at the top and bottom of the tree. It won't topple now."

Of the 220 colored lights on the tree, a dozen were broken from impact on the fall. The star on the top of the tree fell on Route 73 and lights of the star were smashed by the wheel of a passing truck.

A TOW TRUCK from Gilbertsville Motor company assisted Yoder, Linwood Johnson, James J. Moore and three truck drivers for C. H. Zern, Gilbertsville, right the tree.

Serving on the tree committee with Yoder are Johnson and Earl Mensch. The tree is erected on the triangular green where Route 73 intersects Swamp pike.

starting time, a rush trip was made to Norristown to get the key. Twenty-five people waited outside the locked store for 20 minutes until the key was returned.

"Bulk" bids (on everything in the store) were asked for first. The top one was $3000. If the bids on individual pieces and groups of furniture had totaled less than $3000, the bulk bid would have won.

THE BANKRUPTCY AUCTION SALE was ordered by the court at the figurative last minute.

There was a constable's sale of the furniture set for the past month. The day before the sale, Pearlstone got a court order calling off this sale.

The proceeds of the constable's sale would have gone to the landlord, Louis Singer. If anything had been left, it would have been turned over to the store proprietors.

Proceeds of yesterday's sale would be distributed among creditors. The landlord will have priority on part of what he is owed, but if there is anything left after such priority demands are met, all creditors will share equally.

The business that was closed completely with yesterday's sale was founded by Leon C. MacMullen Sr., borough Democratic leader for many years. He died the past year.

DURING THE SALE of pieces of furniture, or small groups of pieces, the auctioneer (from Affiliated Auctioneers, Philadelphia) kept up a rapid-fire chant, something like "Five bid—fi-buh, fi-buh, fi-buh, buh-buh-six-uh, bid-uh-bid-uh-buh-buh."

By the inexperienced observer, the bid of $6 was neither seen nor heard. There were several auction clerks in the audience. Standing close to them and facing them were dealers, who indicated their bids to the clerks by small gestures or grunts.

William J. Eastwood, Philadelphia, and Walter J. Arman, Schwenksville, were the court-appointed receivers in the bankruptcy proceedings. Attorney C. Edmund Wells represented Donald H. MacMullen and Leon MacMullen Jr. Attorney William A. O'Donnell Jr. represented the landlord.

Father Leahy Given Surprise Testimonial

a woman came walking into the hall. You could see the genuine surprise in Father Leahy's face when he recognized his sister and brothers.

His sister, Mrs. Nellie Dalton, of Chicago, Ill., looked in a loving embrace with him and he exchanged firm handclaps with his brothers, Paul, Aloysius and Joseph, all of Philadelphia.

FATHER LEAHY said later that he was thankful for the honor bestowed upon him by his friends and that they could not realize how happy they had made him. "This is the first time since we were children that all of us have been together."

Addressing the gathering, Father Leahy said, "I vow that from now on I shall never pull anything on anyone else because I know now how it is."

"Father, Begley has had me all over keeping me away from here. It is a complete surprise."

Reflecting on his ordination 40 years ago, Father Leahy said, "When I was ordained I prayed that I would be able to help the kids. You can't see a child hungry, you can't see a child cold. You have to put something in his stomach and something over his body."

During his service in the priesthood he has participated in all phases of work where he could help children, in Pottstown and in the many parishes he has served.

FATHER BEGLEY said when the St. Vincent dePaul society was founded at the church to help the needy and children, Father Leahy volunteered to work with the new organization. He now is director of the group which recently sent 2000 pounds of clothing to Korean refugees.

erty at 564 King street. The left front fender, left headlight and bumper were damaged on Romig's car and the complete front end, right rear fender and door were damaged on the Griffith car.

Paint was scraped from the bricks at 564 King street property and there was slight damage to a window sill.

In a second accident at 1:50 p. m. two fenders, a headlight and bumper were damaged.

This accident took place when Davis L. Camacho, Pottstown RD 1, was backing into a parking space on the south side of Hanover street, near Charlotte street when his car was hit by a car operated by Katharine Martin, Pottstown RD 3.

The Martin vehicle was traveling east on High street in the first lane of traffic when it collided with Camacho's sedan.

The left front fender, headlight and bumper of his car were damaged. The right front fender of the Martin car was damaged.

Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads and Patrolman Michael Shanta investigated.

Death Terminates Team's 64-Year-Long Barbering

MILFORD, Mass., Dec. 11 (AP)—Death today ended what may have been the country's oldest barbering partnership.

Joseph B. McClure, 90, of West Upton, died today at Milford hospital.

For 64 of his 74 years as a barber, McClure worked for Frank H. Thomas of Milford.

Thomas, 92, has been cutting hair for 76 years.

HEAVY RAINS —

between the Perkiomenville bridge and Imbody and Son mill, at approximately 7 o'clock.

William Weand, Perkiomenville, saw Fisher open the door of his car twice after it had floundered halfway across the road block of muddy water.

After that he forgot the car, but noticed the driver remained inside. At approximately 7:35 o'clock, Jonas Walker, Perkiomenville RD 1, who was returning from work in Lansdale, drove up to the stranded car and attempted to push it.

When he had pushed the car a few feet he noticed it was going off to the side of the road. He got out of the car and checked Fisher and saw he was slumped back on the driver's seat with his mouth open.

A few minutes later Dr. H. G. Carter, Pennsburg, was called to the scene. At 8:30 o'clock the physician pronounced him dead of a heart attack.

A relative said Fisher left his home about 5:30 o'clock to go to the scene of an accident on Route 29 which had resulted in disrupting of railroad signal wires.

Schwenksville Chief of Police Theodore Berry reported the auto accident took place about a mile south of Schwenksville at Kriebel's crossing on the Reading line.

He said Joseph T. Koneski, 22, of 440 Walnut street, Royersford, was traveling south on Route 29 and skidded when he rolled over the crossing, and struck the pole bearing signal wires for the railroad.

THE POLE snapped off high near its top and the wet wires drooped unbroken low over the road. Berry added, "It would have been impossible for a high truck to pass under the wires. I called the county radio room. They called the Reading station in Norristown and the word was passed on that way."

Berry reported two roads in Schwenksville area were closed for several hours because of high waters. They were Mill road Schwenksville, which leads to Memorial park and Plank road, Perkiomenville township. The entire island, which is Memorial park, was under water, but there was no damage.

Schwenksville Fire company pumped out two cellars.

At Collegeville the Perkiomenville spilled out into the meadows and onto the lawn of the Bridge hotel, but no damage was reported.

From 8:30 a. m. to noon yesterday State highway department barricades prevented cars from attempting to pass through the section of Route 29 where Fisher's car bogged down.

THE SCHUYLKILL rose to the 10-foot level by late afternoon, but at no time threatened to break over its soggy banks. The Perkiomenville reached its crest in the middle and lower valley by late morning. By night fall it had receded to a point of safety.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden reported, "There was no damage in Pottstown. If we would have had any more rain there would have been trouble."

The Manatwamy gave the park ball diamond its customary face washing. On North Charlotte street water flowed like a brook from the heights on the east. In other sections of the borough it was a bad day for the pedestrians who had their hides washed from the spray of bouncing vehicles.

Early Christians were often falsely accused of human sacrifices in their religious ceremonies.

shop, but damage was restricted to the drying room. The alarm was sounded at 6:29 o'clock by Merrill M. Umstead, 315 Chestnut street, from Charlotte and Chestnut streets.

It took firemen a half hour to get the stubborn fire under control.

Frey said he would have to rebuild the top half of the drying room which is of frame construction.

The lower walls are concrete block. He added, "There was no damage to films and I know the fire wasn't caused by any photographic materials or any electrical trouble."

"It came from that shed, which was built to take care of waste paper. No one who works in the shop smokes, so it certainly didn't come from that."

Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who directed firemen, sustained a minor cut on the little finger of his right hand. He suffered the cut from broken glass of a drying room window.

The dense, pungent smoke, which drifted over the area before the fire was under control resulted from the burning wall board in the drying room.

Ballet Russe to Open Concert Series

Varying Russian tragedy with French whimsy, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will stage the first of the season's Community Concert series tomorrow evening.

Curtain time is 8:30 p. m. in the Senior High school auditorium. Tschaikowsky's "Swan Lake," choreographed after Lev Ivanov, will open the program, followed by excerpts from the Russian composer's "Blue Bird" and "Enchanted Princess."

"Cirque de Deux," by Gounod, holds the middle spot, with American choreography set to the ballet music from the opera "Faust."

Final production will be Offenbach's "Gaité Parisienne," a 14-year-old ballet light-heartedly vignetting high and low life in the Paris of the 1860s.

FEATURED DANCERS of the company include Roman Jasinsky, Mosceyline Larkin and Anna Istomina. Janinsky is also a ballet master.

Tomorrow night's performance marks the first appearance in Pottstown of the newly organized concert company of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, currently touring 500 American towns and cities.

The package was sent as a gift, yesterday by US High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly via the Soviet Control Commissioner, Gen. Chukov, for delivery onward.

RED SAYS LINSE PACKAGE 'MISSILE' TO IRON CURTAIN

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—Soviet authorities in Berlin today returned as "missile" an American Christmas food parcel addressed to Walter Linse, kidnapped West Berlin lawyer. He was dragged behind the Iron Curtain the past July.

The package was sent as a gift, yesterday by US High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly via the Soviet Control Commissioner, Gen. Chukov, for delivery onward.

+++ SCHOOL DAYS +++

— In Upper Pottsgrove School —

Film Presented to Class by Principal Depicts Variety of Interesting Subjects

By BARBARA GEISER
On Friday, Mr. Ferdinand, our principal, showed us two newsreels. In these newsreels we saw the remodeling of the White House, two of the fastest airplanes in Canada, an art museum with some of the world's most famous paintings and drawings in it, and we also saw something about the great snow storm in California.

Clark Hughes went to Reading, Richard and Shirley Rhoads went to Graterford and Salford. Charles Gaugler went to Campton and Topon. William McCallister went to Washington, D. C. Arlene Austin went to Fagleyville, Carl Dice went to Bethlehem. Larry Gerhart went to Stowe. Judith Foley went to her uncle's farm. Phyllis Smith went to the mountains to see her grandmother.

Wayne Monroe's brother shot a deer. Timothy Quigley's father shot a deer.

In a survey we took of how many dishes our mothers wash, we found that the largest amount washed in a year for the average family of six is 30,940. Next was a family of three. We found that this mother washes 24,192 dishes a year.

The Second grade is studying about gravity in science, and in social studies, they are studying about Christmas.

FIRST GRADE is studying about Christmas in social studies. They are studying the spirit of Christmas, through Christmas stories and drawings. They are making Christmas gifts and drawing to decorate the room.

Mrs. Wanner placed pigs with signs saying "Milk is Good", she also put snowmen around the room. The children colored both the pigs and the snowmen.

Court Demands Apology By Mother to Teacher
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP) — A 33-year-old mother was placed on a year's probation today and ordered to apologize publicly to a school teacher she struck for paddling her daughter.

The teacher, Leona Playfoot, 37, told the court Mrs. Bernice Robinson struck and broke her glasses in the cafeteria of the William McKelvey school.

Social Studies Class Learns About Bolivia, Chile by Use of Maps

By BARRY RHOADS
In Mr. Ferdinand's Sixth Grade class in Social Studies we have placed the countries of Chile and Bolivia on our outline maps. We have also written in the names of each country and their chief products.

From the reports given by Virginia Messer, Pearl Rhodes and Dorothy Clemmer we learned that about nine tenths of the entire population live in the central section. Santiago is the capital, and has a good climate.

Fishing is a big business along the coast of Chile. Nitrate is a very important product. It is a white substance taken from the ground, and it is of great value to every farmer in the world. It is used in making fertilizer. Iodine is also made from nitrate.

WE FEEL very sorry for the children of Northern Chile because not many of them have ever tasted cow's milk. The only milk they get is from the llamas.

There are great flocks of sheep found in some sections of Chile that supply them with fine wool to be made into clothing. Other products of great importance to Chile are fish, horses, sheep, corn, wheat, rice, butter, cheese, salt and lumber.

Roman roads were often 3 feet or more thick.

Fifth Graders Study State of Massachusetts

By BERNETTA MEST
In Fifth grade we are studying our fourth New England state, Massachusetts. Dolly Auman, Alice Pollino and Donald Miller gave reports about Massachusetts. We learned from their reports that the capital is Boston. The population is 790,863.

The products are corn, cranberries, apples, potatoes, onions and tobacco. Massachusetts is famous for making shoes. The State flower is the May flower. It is called the Bay State and it is the 44th state in size in the United States.

Individual art has been placed in the classrooms. The school as a whole has a Christmas atmosphere. The children in the Third and Fourth Grades are practicing for the Christmas musical. They are learning many different Christmas songs.

Clara Barton Is Topic Of Fourth Grade Class

By BINNIE TOSHER
The study of the life of Clara Barton, leader and founder of the American Red Cross, has been the topic of the Fourth grade in Social Studies.

Individual art has been placed in the classrooms. The school as a whole has a Christmas atmosphere. The children in the Third and Fourth Grades are practicing for the Christmas musical. They are learning many different Christmas songs.

School Safety Patrol Elects New Officers

By VIRGINIA MESSER
The regular meeting of our school safety patrol was held on Wednesday morning during our recess period.

Mary Ann Hasselhan was elected captain for the month of December, and Carl Dice was elected lieutenant.

Our principal, Mr. Ferdinand, told us of the importance of being careful in walking to and from school.

The following members were present: Virginia Messer, Berlin and Bernetta Mest, Carl Dice, Charles Gaugler, Sandra Snyder, Dolly Auman, Larry Gerhart, Mary
